Hedspeth, the Train Robber, Captured.

The Arrest Made in the Postoffice at San Francisco.

Pinioned Before He Could Get His Pistols from His Pockets.

Been Cracking Safes in Oakland-He Will Go Back to St. Louis. By Telegraph to The Times.

San Francisco, Feb. 10.— By the Associated Press. Marion Hedspeth, who is wanted in St. Louis for connection with the Glendale (Mo.) train robbery, was arrested at the point of a pistol the postoffice here today by Capt. Lees a detail of detectives. Hedspeth was taken to Lee's office, where two re volvers, a roll of greenbacks aggregat ing $800, $200 in gold and a number of diamond rings and other jewelry were found on him. Hedspeth took the arrest good-naturedly and said he was willing to return to St. Louis without requisition papers.

The detectives had information that Hedspeth was in town, and, suspecting he was in communication with friends in the East, they determined to lie in wait for him at the postoffice and surprise him when he called for his mail. A watch was kept up for weeks, but it was not until today that he put in an appearance. When he walked down Washington street and turned into the postoffice, Detective Byram was standing on Washington street and followed him in. He did nothing till Hedspeth had mounted the stairs and was about to was the threshold leading to the hall The detectives had information that had mounted the stairs and was about to cross the threshold leading to the hall upon which the delivery windows face. In a recess near the place Detectives Lees and Silvey and Policemen Campbell and Cody were stationed. At a signal from Lees Byram grasped Hedspeth from behind and pinioned his arms to his sides. The other officers then presented their pistols and pointed them at Hedspeth, Capt. Lees remarking, "Take your hands out of your pockets or I'll kill you."

Hedspeth obeyed reluctantly and was hurried into a room in the postoffice, whence he was taken to police in the quarters. Hedspeth was consigned to a cell in the new prison and a special

of the Biggest Pieces of Railway Financiering Ever Known. PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 10.— By the Associated Press. It is announced to night that arrangement which for some time have been in progress designed to place the coal-producing and carrying interests on a more stable foundation have been completed. The primary object was to secure a more econ management in the coal trade by avoiding expensive selling agencies, etc. The plan which has been formed by President McLeod embraces the most extensive McLeod embraces the most extensive financial enterprise yet undertaken in this country. Briefly outlined it means that the Reading has acquired practical control of the Lehigh Valley Railway, Central Railway of New Jersey and other lines, and in addition to the Reading Terminal, now constructing in Philadelphia, will have the magnificent terminals of the Lehigh Valley and Jersey Central on New York harbor. Through the Lehigh Valley's new western extension there will be provided a direct route to the lake at Buffalo, with a spacious terminal there.

In the carrying on of the coal trade the saving in commissions, agency expenses, etc., is expected to reach several millions of dollars annually. When eral millions of dollars annually. When it is further known that the control of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western has passed into hands friendly to the Reading the investing public will recognize that the new arrangements will tend to secure harmony in the coal trade and save unnecessary expenses. The Lehigh Valley also is paying the Erie $1,250,000 annually for trackage, which amount will now be a net gain to which amount will now be a net gain to the Lehigh Valley. In addition to this a vast-amount of traffic will be thrown

This coup of President McLeod is considered one of the greatest in the history of railroad financeering, and makes the Reading as strong a corpora-tion as there is in the world. The plan is approved by Messrs, Drexel, Welsh and others.

SESSION OF CONGRESS.

Half a Million Dollars Asked fo Seattle's Public Building.

An Investigation of the Pension Bures Amuses the House - Other Congressional Doings.

Vashington, Feb. 10.—[By the Asso ciated Press.] Senate.—Mr. Squire, from the Committee on Public Buildings, reported a bill appropriating $500,000 for a public building at Seattle, Wash., to the calendar. The joint resolution as to West Virginia's proportion of the direct tax went over, after some debate. bill providing for the public printing and binding and distribution of pubdocuments was then taken up as unfinished business. The clause authorizing the franking of official matter gave rise to some difficulty, but was finally fixed in these words: "The Vice-President. members and members-elect of delegates and delegates-elect to Congress shall have the privilege of send-ing free through the mails and under their frank any mail matter to any Government official. The bill then went over without action till tomorrow.

The oath of office was administered to Mr. Gibson of Indiana, and after an executive session the Senate adjourned. House.—The most significant event in the proceedings in the House today was the report of the Bland Free Coinage Bill. The action was not one that inaction was not one that volved debate, as the bill merely went on the calendar to be taken up in the order of consideration, but it indicated the intention of the free coinage men to force the bill with all possible haste. Indeed, Chairman Bland and other lead-ers of the free silver movement assert that the measure will be pressed to a within the next sixty days. In this event there is no doubt that the Senate will have an opportunity of passing upon the Bland bill long before the date of either of the great national The House on the report of the Committee on Rules ordered an investiga tion of the Pension Bureau as managed y Commissioner Raum. The scope of the investigation is made much broade than that of previous inquiries, and Messrs. Enloe of Tennessee and Cooper of Indiana, as investigators, will be expected to furnish evidence and practi cally conduct the fight against the present administration of the bureau. Mr. Enloe in advocating his amend-nent today severely criticised the ad-ninistration of the office and reiterated the charges made against the Commissioner and his son in the last Congress.

After some further business the House went into committee of the whole on the Military Academy Bill. Mr. Bowers of California made a humorous speech, in which he described his efforts, seated in an easy chair in the luxurious room of the Military Affairs Committee to reform the Military Academy Bill and cut down expenditures. He was taking his leisure (at the rate of $14 a day) and wondering at the large aggregate of appropriations for the sup-port of the academy, when a picture arose before him of the cheerless room of a cadet, and he came to, the concluof a cadet, and he came to, the concusion that he would let somebody else reform on that side. Some Democrat had yesterday denounced the Ffty-first Congress for having in the aggregate made immense appropriations. He joined in that denunciation. It was easy to critique an aggregate: that was a very considered that the second of the control of the co that denunciation. It was easy to criticise an aggregate; that was a very convenient term; but he had yet to see any gentleman rise and denounce the Fifty-first Congress for having appropriated too much for public buildings in his district or for improvement of the navigation of some dry creek in which he was After further remarks the committee arter further remarks the committee arose. The speaker placed Mr. Bland's bill on the calendar, Mr. Dingley of Maine having urged that it should go to the committee of the whole, as it must inevitably involve expense to the treasury. Adjourned.

By Telegraph to The Times. DENVER (Colo.,) Feb. 10.-By the Associated Press. Dispatches received this afternoon from New Mexico points stating that the Navajo Indians had gone on the warpath and that a battle was in progress near Albuquerque created great excitement. Later advices show that the first reports were greatly exaggerated. A dispatch from Coolidge, N. M., tonight says that the rouble is between Navajos and cattlemen and was caused by rene-gade Indians killing cattle, Chief Maraino was requested ten days ago to remove the Indians. This request was granted, but on Tuesday three Indians were found coming down the trail toward Chavez, and the cow boys ordered them back. back and on the bluff built signal fires Soon forty renegade Indians came to their assistance in defiance of the cow their assistance in defiance of the cow-boys and their promise not to trespass. The Indians claimed that their deserted camp had been burned by cowboys, although there were no cowboys at Chavez at the time, and they were going to get even. The Indians threat-ened to burn the San Antonio ranch, oc-cupied by a cattleman named Codding-ton, and they left Chavez, going in that direction.

that direction Harry Cody, his mother and two men were at the ranch. They were greatly terrified when the Indians rode up and terrified when the Indians rode up and began yelling and shooting indiscriminately. No one was hurt and the Indians, apparently satisfied with having scared the people, rode away. Harry Cody at once mounted a pony and rode sixteen miles to Coolidge for assistance. Fifteen armed cowboys immediately left for the ranch, which is sixteen miles distant, arriving at 9 p.m., but all was quiet. The cowboys remained at the ranch until noon today, but could discover no Indians. Lieut. Wallace of the Second Cavalry, and twenty men from Fort Wingate with pack-mules, from Fort Wingate with pack-mules, passed Coolidge this evening on their way to the San Antonio ranch with or-ders to remain there several days and be ready to quell any hostilities on the part of the Indians.

This evening everything is quiet at and in the vicinity of Chavez.

Mescalleros Butcher Each Other. ALBUQUERQUE (N. M.,) Feb. 10 .- A courier from White Oaks, N. By Telegraph to the times.

Paris. Feb. 10.—[By Cable and Associated Press] The civil marriage of the Duke de la Rochefoucauld and Miss Mattie Mitchell, daughter of Senator Mitchell of Oregon, took place today at the Mairie of the Seventh Arrondissement. The religious ceremony will take place tomorrow at noon at the Church of Ste. Cothilde. The cerecauren of Ste, Cothilde. The cere-mony today was performed by the deputy mayor. There were only thirty persons present, including Hon. White-law Reid, the American Minister. After the ceremony was concluded the deputy moyor said to the Duke and bride:

I am pleased to have the honor of ad-dressing to you the compliments and good wishes of the municipal officers upon the union of an officer of the French army and the head of one of the most ancient and historical families of the country to the daughter of an honorable American Sena-tor. This marriage endows our country with a new and charming French woman whom I welcome heartily among us. especially as she represents and whom I welcome heartily among us, especially as she represents and renews the old alliance between France and America. I am proud to salute the eminent persons present here, espe-cially the distinguished American Minister. I beg him kindly to accept my expression of respect for the Government he repre-sents here, and for himself, who enjoys great esteem and consideration here.

Subsequent to the civil marriage to day a diner de contract was given at the residence of the Dowager Duchess de la Rochefoucauld, in the Rue de Belchasse. The bride's trousseau and wedding presents, which were of great number and extraordinary value, were displayed today in a room of the Hotel Holland, where the bride at present resides.

The Thompson-Houston Company and the Edison Electric Company have consolidated their capital and enormous interests. The terms of the agreement involve the surrender of stock in the existing companies to be replaced by stock in a new company.

At the annual meeting of the Illinois Steel Company held in Chicago yesterday, the old board of directors was reelected except 0. W. Potter, who declined reelection, and Robert Forsythe was chosen to fill the vacancy. The capital stock was increased from $25,000,000 to $50,000.000. The financial statement showed net profits for the year of $1,038,777.

The failure of Philip Bruns, a member of the New York Stock Exchange since 1869, was announced yesterday. His liabilities amount to about $400,000, all to personal friends. A publication of the schedules of White & Co., showing that Bruns was a debtor to that firm for about $160,000, caused the president of the exchange to request him to announce his suspension. His assets, aside from his Stock Exchange seat, are simply nominal.

The Eminent Chinese Physician.

Dr. Woh's life work has been from early youth one of persistent and observation, study and investigation, as fully as lay in his power to perfect himself in all branches of the art of healing human sickness and disease. Born in China, of influential parents, of a family whose ancestors have been for generations deservingly renowned as leading physicians, Dr. Woh naturally followed in the footsteps of h fathers. In China he has practiced his profession for several years, being at on time a physician in the Imperial Hospital, and in America for a long time. His great number of patients, his wonderful and many cures, and the great list of letters from healer of sickness and all diseases.

I have doctored with the best physicians of San Francisco for my heart disease, but received no benefit. Thirty days ago I was recommended to you and began your treatment; before this, I was twice completely prostrated in the public streets, but foday I am a well man and I thank you alone for my recovery. Respectfully,

In Cleveland, O., many months ago I caught a severe cold which settled on my lungs, terminating in asthma. The doctors said there was no hope of my recovery, but that a change to California might prolong my life. February last I came to San Bernardin and doctored with three physicians ned no relief: finally Dr. Woh was recommended to me by a friend. I took his medicines and followed his directions and today I am perfectly well.

MISS GRACE M. FIELD.
Oct. 30, 1891.

For a long time I have been suffering with bladder and kidney troubles. No doctoring or medicines seemed to do me good. I consulted the best physicians and surgeons in Los Angeles city. They gave me morphine and drugs, but no relief could I obtain. After suffering great pain and having my passage almost entirely clogged. I fourteen days ago began using Dr. Woh's medicines. Today I. Am perfectly well. I do consider Dr. Woh' the most successful physician in Southern California.

THE WATER QUESTION.

Special Meeting of the Council This Morning.

Fixing of Rates for the Coming Year to be Discussed.

Additional Correspondence Between Mr. Perry and the Committee.

An Important Opision by Eminent New York Attorneys on the Bond Propo-sition—Some of the Legal Points Involved.

The City Council will meet in special session this morning at 10 o'clock for the purpose of fixing the water rates for the coming year as required by the charter. It is more than probable that the Special Committee on Water Supply will have something to say about the plan for the city securing control of the water, and a report may be sub-mitted. The following additional cor-respondence on the subject has been had since the last report, which fully explains itself:

explains itself:

Los Angeles (Cal.,) Feb. 9, 1892.

W. H. Perry. President Los Angeles City Water Company—Deam Sir: The Council will meet Thursday at 10 o'clock a.m. for the purpose of fixing the water rates for the coming year, and would be pleased to have you present with such officers of your company as you may desire for the purpose of giving such information to the members as will be reasonable and just.

Your reply to the last communication of the Special Water Committee is not as explicit as the Council or public might desire, and on behalf of the committee I ask you—not intending to commit the Council to anything—if there is any plan by which all existing water companies, exercising their franchises, can be united so that if the city should desire it might secure all of them at one time, and, if so, under what conditions other than the one outlined in your previous letter.

An early reply will oblige the committee. An early reply will oblige the committee

Yours, etc., [Signed,] WILLIAM H. BONSALL, Chairman of Special Committee.
MR. FERRY'S REPLY.
Los Angeles (Cal.,) Feb. 10, 1892.
Major W. H. Bonsall, Chairman Special Committee—Dear Sir: Replying to yours of yesterday: For over two years there has been more or less discussion and agitation of the subject of a proper water suppl yf or domestic uses to the inhabitants or this city. While this discussion originated over the supply furnished to the hill portion of the city—a district not supplied by our company—it has extended to the entire water supply. I shall not attempt to advise you of the aims and desires of those who have been instrumental in the movement directed against the City Water Company, as I have no doubt you fully understand them, but I want to advise you of the lines of action which we would be glad to adopt, in answer to your question, in dealing with this matter.

We have submitted to the city an offer to sell to it all the water properties which we own or control that are connected in any way with the water supply of this city, and have given the Council a price for the same. We will not sell a part and retain the rest. Rather than do this we will let our affairs remain as they are until the end of our contract, at which time the city is compelled to buy the entire plant now used in supplying the city with water. We have no desire to be captious, or ask more for the property than we believe is a fair value of it, nor as much as the engineers estimate would be the cost to the city of the construction of new works which would give a similar supply, to say nothing of valuable real estate and water rights not taken into account.

For more than two years we have appreciated the need of one general system of water supply for the city, and had made plans and estimates with that end in view. But while we were at this work schemes were originated by persons having no source of water supply, nor means to lay a mile of main. These schemes were hawked in the Eastern money markets, and each one of them repre aged by its own agents, without the addiof the city, nor any liability for any debt. Yours truly,

W. H. PERRY,
President Los Angeles City Water Co.

THE LEGAL ASPECT.

The proposition for the purchase of city bonds for the payment of a system of water works has been submitted to a firm of eminent New York attorneys who have long made a specialty of the law of water rights, franchises and corporations. These gentlemen, after a thorough investigation, have given the following opinion which speaks for itself:

the following opinion which speaks for itself:

After considering the foregoing facts, we cannot advise the purchase of bonds issued by the city of Los Angeles in payment for a system of water works to be owned and operated by that city unless the city should purchase and extinguish all the rights and equities of the City Water Company and the other operating companies.

We do not believe that the city could successfully attack the legality of its contract, under the constitution of 1849 and the laws made pursuant thereof, if the constitution of 1880 had not been adopted. But Sec. 6, Art. XII of the constitution provides specifically what corporations shall not exercise grants, franchises and exclusive privileges obtained previous to the adoption of the last constitution. There is but one interpretation which can be put upon this section, and that is that all corporations not included in the prohibition are confirmed in their rights. The contract was a vested right, and could not have been disturbed by the adoption of a different constitution. But even if; it could have been, it was excepted under the quoted section of the constitution.

disturbed by the adoption of a different constitution. But even if it could have been, it was excepted under the quoted section of the constitution.

Answering question 6: "Whether the city would have the right to ignore the existing contract and build a water works de novo, without purchasing the existing plant," we answer that it would not. To do this would be to destroy all of the investment made under a valid agreement to buyand pay for all the property at the expiration of the contract. A court of equity would enjoin the city from such an act. The investment would not have been made but for the promise of the city that at a certain time it would buy all the plant. Even though the city might not have had the right to grant an exclusive use of the water of the Los Angeles River, the doctrine of an ultra vires act would not hold against the agreement to buy the works at an agreed time.

Answering question 7: "Is the city, in the absence of any change of contract bound to buy and pay for the plant at the expiration of the contract?" we do not hesitate to say that it is. It is optional with the seller as to how or in what, he shall be paid the value of his plant, but if he demand cash the city must pay cash.

Question 8: "If a company should receive a franchise from the city; and with it all claims, demands and equities against the City Water Company, holding the city of Los Angeles harmless as from the City Water Company, could that company proceed with the construction and operation of ceéd with the construction and operation of a water supply system?"

We think not, as that would be only the substitution of the private for the municipal corporation, and could not give any rights or powers not now possessed by the city. The city cannot empower a company or individual to do what it could not do in this matter. The decision of the Superior Court of Los Angeles in the case vs. Stern et al. will not be sustained if appealed.

If the contract with the City Water Company should be held invalid the persons or corporation standing between the city and the Water Company would, no doubt, be liable for the taxes and rentals paid as well as for all work done to or upon the city's water works, and this would involve a larger expenditure than the purchase of the plant under the terms of the contract. Our advice is that you make no investment—in the Los Angeles water works scheme without having first acquired absolute title to all the property of existing water companies and having also acquired from the city, in exchange for all existing rights, such a definite franchise and right to the use of the water of Los Angeles River as may insure a clear definition of all rights under existing laws. The proviso in section 191 of the present charter of the city authorizes the lease for an indefinite period of the waters of Los Angeles River of the waters of Los Angeles River for "the ordinary sale and distribution of the said waters to the inhabitants of the city or persons doing business therein for irrigating and domestic uses and for manufacpersons doing business therein for Irri-gating and domestic uses and for manufac-turing purposes other than for water turing purposes other than for water power."

This section of the charter is somewhat vague, and it would be safe to secure a legislative amendment to it authorizing the lease for a reasonable period before entering into an agreement with the city, though we think the Council now has that power. Indeed no other reasonable construction could be given to the section mentioned, for no one would undertake to erect or maintain works to supply the city with water under a lease which the city could revoke at pleasure upon six months notice.

An Officer With the Necessary Papers to Arrive this Morning-The Fellow Record in Los Angeles-How He Was Captured.

Frank Capps, the man who was released from the city prison a few days ago, after serving out a thirty days' sentence for robbing a woman in a house of prostitution on Alameda street a few months ago, did not get out of town soon enough and is again in the clutches of the law. Capps and a companion of the same stripe first made their appearance in this city about six months ago, and so far as the officers and police detectives could learn they did nothing for a living, but they were too sharp to be caught in any of their crooked work until one night, after they had been here several months, when they entered a house of ill-fame shortly after midnight and carried things with a high hand until the landlady ordered them out of the house on the grounds that they owed one of the women $10, that they owed one of the women $10, which they claimed they did not owe. Before leaving the house, however, Capps put up $10 with the landlady and promised to leave it with her until the dispute could be settled. A FAITHFUL DOG.

It Accompanied Its Mistress to the Insane

The officer who took Jessie Butler, the poor woman who was adjudged insane by the lunacy commission day before yesterday, to the asylum yesterday had a singular experience with her. When she was taken to the County Jail and placed in the crazy cell a few days ago a little yellow dog followed her to the jail and raised such a row when the jailers refused to let him in that he was admitted, and he and the woman were as happy as possible until the train was about to leave for the north and Miss Butler was informed that the dog could not accompany her.

Before the dog could be put out of her sight she grabbed it and held on with such a deadly grip that the officers could not take the little brute from her, and both had to be placed on the train and both had to be placed on the train.

It is against the rules of railroad companies for dogs to ride in passenger coaches, but the crazy woman refused to give up her pet, and every time the officer who had her in charge and the trainmen attempted to take him from her she raised such a row that they were glad to retreat in good order. were glad to retreat in good order.

It is hard to tell how she will act It is hard to tell now she will act when they reach the asylum, but it is safe to say that they will not be able to take the dog from her, and it will have to be admitted to the asylum with her, which will be an unheard-of thing on this Coast at least.

THE abandoned farms that a year ago were a text to point a moral about the assumed decadence of New England are finding purchasers almost after the style of an Oklahoma rush. They are wanted for summer homes. Not long ago the Massachusetts Board of Agri culture printed a catalogue of abandoned farms and the edition was quickly exhausted, the demand for it coming from every State in the Union and from Canada and England as well. A new edition is in press, but the board can hear of only nine more farms to add to the list. Thus the value of advertising is again asserted.

A good portion of our money has gone to improve Eastern rivers, while we have received practically nothing. The sum of $21,000,000 is wanted for the Mississippi alone. Comparing the length of our rivers, through which treatment is necessary, and the length over which it is proposed to spend that immense sum, we are entitled to even more. Comparing the commerce through the lengths of the navigable portions of the rivers to be treated, and California is entitled to almost 30 per cent.

The Water Question.

This vital question, so important to every citizen, is again before the people for consideration. Recent correspondence between the president of the Council's special committee and the president of the City Water Company (published elsewhere today) presents the latest phase of the question. The Council has made oblique overtures look ing to the possible purchase of all the existing water works, and has asked the City Water Company whether it will sell, and, if so, at what figure. Response has been made by the company expressing a willingness to sell and naming $2,500,000 as a flat price. The value of all the water systems, if bought together, is estimated by their owners at about $2,750,000.

But the possibility of anything like an early purchase by the city is out of the question. There are no funds for this object and a proposition to vote twenty-year bonds to erect works at a cost of $4,000,000 would not be likely to carry now, or at any time in the early future, for the reason that we have our street and sewer systems to finish and the general sanitary wants of the city to meet, which objects will require all the public funds in sight (after meeting other municipal expenses and all that can be made available without exceeding the limits of reasonable taxation and the issuance of more bonds, which must be paid within twenty years.

In this state of the case, then, the project of the city's undertaking to ac quire the ownership of water works. except in the distant future, is not feas-and the people? water companies have rights The which cannot be arbitrarily abrogated; they have franchises which cannot be forfeited except for cause. But they are willing to sell: the only, or the chief. questions are those of price and terms, and the ability and disposition of the city to buy. We have seen that the latter object is not within reach. In this dilemma the favorite and most feasible scheme in sight is, apparently, the one suggested, in substance, by a practical citizen nearly two years ago, and outlined at the time in these columns. This plan has recently been revived, and to it the president of the City Water Company has given his adhesion, in effect, in the letter addressed yesterday to the chairman of the Council's special committee. The closing paragraph of Mr. Perry's letter contains a pretty clear statement of the plan:. For more than two years we have appreciated the need of one general system of water supply for the city, and had made plans and estimates with that end in view. But while we were at this work schemes were originated by persons having no source of water supply, nor means to lay a mile of main. These schemes were hawked in the Eastern money markets, and each one of them represented that our company had no rights, and that our property could be purchased for a trilling amount. In the end they culminated in a proposition to us by a strong financial syndicate, which sent here and experted our works, to buy all of our property (at the price given you in my previous communication,) and by extensions and additions provide a general system of water supply equal to all the wants of the entire city. They offer, if the city will grant them a water franchise for a period of fifty years, to turn over to it at the end For more than two years we have appre of fifty years, to turn over to it at the end of that time the entire plant free and clear of that time the entire plant free and clear of all incumbrances, or they will turn the plant over to the city at any time after completion of the works upon the city giving them indemnity against loss. Under this plan you can see that the city can have a water works of its own, operated and managed by its own agents, without the addition of 1 cent to the bonded indebtedness of the city, nor any liability for any debt. Yours truly,

W. H. PERRY,

W. H. PERRY.
President Los Angeles City Water Comp The central idea of this plan was embodied in an editorial published by THI

Referring again to the question of the ownership of its water system by Los Angeles, inquiry elicits the information that responsible parties can be found in New York, who will build water works complete for the city, furnishing all the cash needed for the purpose, and take pay in 5 per cent. bonds running any required length of time. There are persons who make a business of building water works for cities, and are able to place the bonds of any municipality having a standing and accredit such as this city enjoys.

This appears to offer us a simple solution of the problem and opens the way to municipal ownership of a system for distributing the people's water without the expenditure of a cent. As we already own the water supply the cost of such works would be reduced to a minimum, and at the low rate of 5 per cent. Interest the investment should yield a good round profit to the city, even after the rates shall have been greatly reduced.

The situation of Los Angeles in relation to the water supply is peculiarly favorable for its ownership by the municipality. In a country where water is so preclous it would be an inexcusable error to miss the TIMES June 20, 1890, as follows: OUR WATER SUPPLY.

opportunity of acquiring that ownership while it may be done inexpensively and without injustice to any existing interest.

In carrying out such a plan the Council and the companies would have to deal with numerous questions of detail: The annual profits that the property earn; the length of should fairly the proposed new franchise should run the water rates, which must be fixed and regulated by the Council, and ough to be materially lowered: the matter of repairs, betterments and extensions, which should be carefully provided for and finally the feasibility of shortening the proposed term at the end of which the works would come into possession of the city. This last question, however, would be easy of solution, since the owners stipulate in the above offer that they would be willing to "turn the plant over to the city at any time after completion of the works, upon the city giv ing them indemnity against loss."

The popular movement which took place in the summer of 1890 will be re called. There was a large mass-meeting, at which strong speeches in favor of reorganizing our water city system were made by leading citizens. A large standing committee was appointed to consider the subject and report in detail

The Citizens' Committee met on July 22, 1890, at the office of Mr. C. M. Wells, who, with Messrs. J. A. Ander son, M. T. Allen, J. T. Sheward, Mr Galbreth and a number of others-fifteen in all-unanimously approved a report on the water question, the gist of which, so far as applicable to existing conditions, is given below. The matter was brought before the public in the midst of a heated political campaign, in which the work of the ward statesmen over shadowed the real wants of the public

[Extract from report of the Citizens' Committee on Water Suppy.]

That a contract be entered into between the city and a syndicate of capitalists, by which such syndicate should furnish an amount of capital sufficient to purchase the rights of the present company under their lease, and conduct upon a well-devised, thoroughly-digested upon a well-devised, thoroughly-digested, practicable plan, a complete system of water works, including this aqueduct previously referred to for power purposes, at a total cost of say $4,000,000; that the city as one of the contracting parties should agree that when these works were constructed satisfactorily, according to the plans agreed upon, to furnish and provide water out of the supply owned by them for the use of the inhabitants of the city for the various purposes mentioned, at a fixed rental or price equal in amount to the cost of maintenance, operation and agreed rate, of interest upon the ascertained cost of construction and money advanced; that the city, as a trustee for the syndicate, would undertake to collect these revenues and undertake to collect these revenues and disburse them in a manner agreed upon.

As a legal proposition it is as well es tablished as a legal proposition can be said to be—that a municipality may act as trustee for purposes germane to the objects of the corporation, or which will promote aid or assist in carrying out and perfecting these objects.

This plan, though varying from the one now before the people, pointed in the same general direction.

The two water systems now collect about $300,000 per year. The Citizens' Company can lease its mains to the City Company, which would supply them with water. The increase of sales by the City Company from January 1, 1891, to January, 1892, was over $20,000. At this rate, in five years the income would be $500,000 per year. In other words, the Cfty Company, during the seven years of its unexpired lease, can collect $3,000, 000 from the people, and then the ped ple would be bound to buy the plant. which will be much more valuable than it is today.

The question of the city's taking early steps to acquire all the water works upon some plan, similar to the one now offered, involving no outlay on the part of the municipality, is a question that may well be considered upon its merits purely. Upon thatbas is THE TIMES presents it to the Council and the

Here are some marked discrepancies

MUNICIPAL ownership of the water vorks might not prove an unmixed blessing, but the trend of public sentiment appears to be clearly in that direction, while the inability of the city to buy is obvious. In this dilemma some plan to "get there" by slow stages will have to be adopted if the existing status is to be changed. The question

LETTERS TO THE TIMES.

Bland's Free Coinage Bill.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 10.—[To the Editor of THE TIMES.] At no time in the history of the Nation has a bolder "horizontal raise" been attempted than in the free coinage effort.

Look at the facts. Under present laws the United States is buying all of the silver output of the United States for about 95 cents per ounce and issuing silver certificates worth $1.29 per ounce. That is, the $1 silver certificate is a full dollar in legal value. Under free coinage, the Bland bill, these $1 certificates are to be delivered to the owners of silver bullion for 412½ grains of silver which the United States now buys for less than 75 cents.

Between these figures there is an annual now buys for less than 75 cents.

Between these figures there is an annual profit of over $30,000,000 on the United States silver product by reason of issue of silver certificates. The coin men under the Bland act will receive a present of this $30,000,000 and the people will lose it and get, no greater volume of money than they now get.

mow get.

The bill is a direct "scoop" of $30,000.

000 per year on the people.

But its scoop does not stop here. Section 6 provides that when France adopts free coinage that the United States ratio of 16 pounds of silver to 1 of gold shall change to 15% to 1. That is, the silver owners shall get a further raise of ½ pound out of every 16. pound out of every 16.

But section 6 referred to has a pretty

But section 6 referred to has a pretty "African" in the wood-pile, as follows: It says the outsanding silver dollars shall be recoined and lowered from 412½ grains to 400 grains in the dollar, and that the profit shall go to the United States. That is the shall go to the United States. That is the and will be cleverly avoided. It represents about 3 cents on the dollar or nearly $15,000,000 on our silver certificate issue. When the time comes the holders of the certificates will present them for redemption and receive 412½ grains of silver dollars and then ship them to the French mints for free coinage, making the 3 cents on the dollar for the work, leaving the United States mint and its profit "out again."

A greater damage would arise from the A greater damage would arise from the contraction of our circulating medium. Our $500,000,000 silver certificates would be retired and the silver dollars issued therefor, worth in France $1.03 for recoining, and, worth only $1 at our own mints (the 3 cents going to the United States,) would be exported to France and our circulation curtailed $500,000,000.

So it is not a compliment to the intelligence of the American to expect him to indore such a financial scheme.

The Government should buy gold, silver and bank note paper at their lowest market price and stamp them into money, making the profit for the whole population.

Until we get a constitutional amend Until we get a constitutional amendment fixing the principles of our circulating medium our system will be constantly attacked for private speculation. The United States Senate has reported adversely on the free coinage scheme and also on several others that are local and of class benefit.

The issue now is for a general, uniform, honest system for the common good or none.

R. M. WIDNEY.

The Bland Bill, Tambien Los Angeles, Feb. 10.—[To the Editor of THETIMES.] The real friends of bimetalism will regret to see the issue forced on a bill so fatally defective as that to be reported to the House of Representatives today by Bland, chairman of the Coinage Committee.
The old heads in and out of Congress who understand the practical bearings of these matters will not be slow to point out the weak points of the Bland bill; and the matters will not be slow to point out the weak points of the Bland bill; and the enemies of bimetalism, moreover, will not he state to use the mistakes apparent in this bill for show how risky it is to intrust important legislation of this kind into the hands of men who show such lack of knowledge of some of the fundamental principles of exchange, as is shown in the proposed bill. Section 6 provides that as soon as France reopens her mints to sliver at her present ratio of 1 to 15½, our ratio shall be immediately changed to 1 to 15½, without making any provision whatever for the change in existing money contradts which such legislation would involve. Besides, what is to become of the more than 400,000,000. standard silver dollars of 412½ grains each already coined? The new Bland bill says they shall be recoined into 400-grain dollars, and the gain arising therefrom shall be accounted for into the treasury. But they do not, or at any rate only a small number of them, belong to the treasury. The greater portion of them, represented by silver certificates, as well as those in actual circulation, belong to private parties. On every dollar recoined there would be a gain of 12½ grains of standard silver, or romething over 3 per cent.

Taree per cent. on say 425,000,000 sil-standard silver, or romething over 3 per cent.

Taree per cent. on say 425,000,000 silver dollars would be a nice plum to be cornered into the pockets of the holders! Between $12,000,000 and $13,000,000 would be made by somebody by the turn, but not by—Uncle Sam.

The adoption of a common ratio between silver and gold by all double-standard nations, as a means of steadying both metals, to of transcendent importance; but changes from one ratio to another are not made in this foods will. It would be competent to change by legislation from the use of the yard measure to the use in its place of the meter; but it will not be pretended that Congress could arbitrarily ordain that after a certain day yards should mean meters or vice versa.

neters or vice versa. In an interview Mr. Bland shows that his notions on this subject are very vague when he, says that personally he cares little about a common ratio, but, as many people think it is important, he adrily intimates that he has no objection to it. When will questions of "admitted complexity" like the currency be handled by persons who thoroughly understand it in all its practical bearings, as for example, McKinley handled the question of the protective stariff?

The Inside of the Oyster Trade. Los ANGELES, Feb. 9 .- To the Editor of THE TIMES.] I would like to supplement a statement made by me in your Sunday edition from information which I had written for. The cost of bringing Atlantic oysters from Baltimore, New York or Norfolk, fract-class selects, would be:

Three dozen cans in package, at $2.75 per dozen. $8.25 Expressage. 10.50 Re-icing four times 1,50 cost 40 cents per quart, and sales at 85 cents would not more than realize cost and cost 470 cents per quart, and sales at 85 cents would not more than realize cost and expenses.

The select oysters sell in all the cities east of the Missouri River at 80 cents per tan retail—$6 per dozen wholesale. In March and April, when the weather is warm, the risk of losing shipments is so great that nobody can safely calculate upon making profit in Los Angeles upon Gulf oysters at 50 cents per can. If this is not believed let several parties "sail in" and see where they will land.

There are several owners of large oyster beds who wish to ship seed oysters here by the million and plant them in localities suitable from pure water, fresh as well as sait. I don't suppose that they will be permitted to do it, as the grab-game prevails; and land assessed at $15 per acre would be held at $200, as I was offered some at that figure yesterday and declined. The doctrine being "the devil take the hindmost" (and I expect he will catch many of the foremost.) the day will be distant when equity will govern between buyer and seller, and during that delay everybody must expect to pay the highest prices for everything. The truth is the buyer and seller, and during that delay everybody must expect to pay the highest prices for everything. The truth is the people on this Coast seem to love a monopoly better than any competitor who seeks to cheapen prices and reduce their burdens. The people in Pomona and numerous other towns submit to paying 75 cents a can, when they could throw the dealers overboard and form clubs to take a certain number every week and send to Los Angeles for them.

BLANTON DUNCAN.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 6. [To the Editor of This Times.] Permit me through your valuable columns to express my long-time disapproval of that ishuman device for horses called an "overcheck," an invention the disadvantages of which I never half realized till recently.

I sit daily in an elevated position, at the four corners of two of the busiest-thoroughfares in our city, and can look down upon the never-ceasing whirl and rush of man and beast. It is here that my aversion to this "slow torture" has deepened into pain, as I watch the patient, helpless animals, with distorted necks and heads elevated far above their natural position, endeavoring to faithfully perform their master's wish. This accomplishment of some "penny wise and pound foolish" brain deprives the horse of the natural and necessary use of its organs of sight, holds its neck in an unnatural and ungainly position, causing it not only torture in degree-to the sensitiveness of the creature but lessens its certainty of step and the case and grace of its travel—essential points that should enlist the, attention and careful study of every lover of "horse-tack".

How in the world any one can for a me How in the world any one can for a moment regard a horse with a stiff distended neck and head thrust high in the air a feature of attraction or of any advantage whatever is a marvel to me. I don't see how any maiden or female can sit smilingly behind this fettered animal listening to the honeyed speech of a man (?) who can thus disregard the comfort and native rights of the noblest animal of creation. If at the suggestion such a man (?) smiles derisvely—look ont! He will treat you similarly later on if you link your destiny to his.

If he be thoughtless and ignorant of the cruelty inflicted then surely he is unit to become the arbiter of graver responsibilities.

Because a horse is only a horse it is no sign that it has no God-given rights. It is no sign that it cannot suffer. It is no sign that it has not sense, even beyond poorhuman comprehension, sometimes—I'm humiliated in confessing it—beyond its driver.

Those of you who are in possession of and the use of this needless "overcheck" pause and think well, at least, tere you continue in the state in abuse of a trusting, willing it is not for our pleasure as well as our necessities.

JOW TO WATER PLANTS.

Some Useful Hints on the Subject from Chief Gardener Saunders "People frequently ask, 'How often should I water my plants?' " said Chief should I water my plants?' " said Chief Gardener Saunders, of the Department of Agriculture, to a Washington Star reporter the other day. "To begin with, never apply water to a plant un-til it requires it, that is, until it is dry, and then apply a sufficient quantity to Novices in plant culture usually make the mistake of merely sprinkling the surface of the soil, perhaps daily, without any time applying enough water to saturate the mass. Plants cannot flourish under such conditions; the surface will appear wet while the main body of the soil is hard and dry. One drawback to properly watering plants in parlor and window gardening arises from the inconvenience attending the use of water in sufficient quantities; another evil is the dryness of the air. Both of these obstacles to success can be greatly modified by the use of a table properly fitted for the reception of the properly fitted for the reception of the flower pots or small vases in which the plants are kept. This table may be of any required size; a surface of two by three feet would be suitable for most windows; it should be made tight and neatly fitted. A ledge is made by fastening a strip three inches wide around the edge; then fill with two inches of clean, white sand, upon which the clean, white sand, upon which the plants are placed. Lining the table with zinc would completely guard against drip. The table should be fitwith zinc would completely guard against drip. The table should be fit-ted with rollers to facilitate the operation of watering and cleaning the plants. With a table of this kind the plants can be watered freely, and occaplants can be watered reerly, and occa-sionally sprinkled, without any injury to surrounding objects. The sand should be kept constantly wet, so that moist-ure will be evaporated from it, and thus overcome, in some degree, one of the chief obstacles to the successful culture of plants in dwelling rooms-a dry at osphere.

There are a few general rules with regard to watering plants which may be noted. Watering should be prefer-ably applied during the early part of the day, especially so in the winter sea-son. Plants in pots well supplied with son. Plants in pots well supplied with roots will require much more water than those which are newly potted, or have a quantity of soil with a few roots. Plants with narrow or small foliage will not use so much water as those with large spreading leaves. Plants in the shade will not need as much water as will those in the sun. But in cases when water is applied it should be done copiously.

when water is applied it should be done copiously.

"In the pot culture of plants, where the amount of soil is limited, the use of liquid manure is of vast service when judiciously applied, but much harm may be occasioned by its indiscriminate use. Many persons consider it necessary to resort to the use of guano and other solutions on the sickly plants and other solutions on the sickly plants and are surprised to find that the applica-tion only hastens the dissolution of the patient.

"It is only healthy and well-rooted plants that are to be benefited by ma-nures, and such as are supplied with hungry roots but growing slowly for hungry roots but growing slowly for want of nutriment. Such plants as have been for years in the same spot or tub, as we frequently find orange and lemon trees, camelias, oleanders, etc., will be greatly stimulated by the application of manural liquids during their period of growth. For plants of all kinds that have their pots filled with roots it will be serviceable, and to such such fishers, pelaryoniums, cineraries. roots it will be serviceable, and to such as fuchsias, pelargoniums, cineraries, etc., while in flower, they will bloom longer and in greater perfection. But it should be kept in mind that stimulants should not be applied while flower buds are forming, as it might induce an increased wood growth at the expense of the flowering principle."

Heating by Electricity.

One of the most interesting developments in the application of electricity, which has, perhaps, the widest promise of general domestic utility and benefit of all the multiplicity of applications of electric energy, is that of electric heat-ing. Electricians are talking of wonderful things in that lineas possibiling. Electricians are talking of wonderful things in that lineas possibilities of the near future. They assert confidently, that before long houses, offices, and stores, street cars and railroad cars will be heated as well as lighted by electricity. Not only that, but all cooking may be done by the same agency, and the heat, dust, grime and the smoke of the cook stove and the heating furnace will be nightmares of memory. The coal cellar is to be abolished, and the heat to warm the house and prepare the meals is to be brought in on a wire arid distributed to do any service at any time in response to the pressing of a button or the turning of a switch.

It is asserted that the electric heater is so nearly developed on a thoroughly practical basis that it can be available at a slight increase in cost over present

It is said that one Joseph Hutchings of Stanislaus county is also charged with the same offense. The charge of con-spiracy made against the two men is the direct result of a civil suit brought here a few months ago in which Miss Zua Daniels, daughter of E. P. Daniels, got a verdict for $25,000 damages against W. J. Church, a wealthy land and ditch owner of Fresno county. She sued for slander, charging the defendant with having uttered false and slanderous words about her to Joseph Hutchings, was the mana-ger of Church's Lanes Springs property in Stanislaus county.

Mr. Daniels was one time in the em-

AN AGONIZING DEATH.

A San Franciscan Fatally Burned by Fall-ing into a Slough of Lye, San Francisco, Feb. 10.—[By the Associated Press. Dennis Whelan, a sa-loon-keeper, met with a terrible accident this morning. He was crossing a bridge that spans a little creek at the foot of Ninth street, but lost his balance and fell into the slough, which was filled with lye from the San Francisco Candle Works. The stuff burned into the unfortunate man's flesh. Whelan's cries of agony attracted the attention of sevof agony attracted the attention of several workmen, and with considerable difficulty they hauled him out. He was conveyed to the receiving hospital, and when laid out on the operating table he presented a most pitiable sight. His whole body was frightfully burned. His intense suffering caused him to become almost insane, and the hospital attaches found it necessary to extra him. tachés found it necessary to strap him to a cot to prevent him from injuring himself. At 8 o'clock this afternoon death ended his suffering and the re-mains were sent to the morgue.

SOTO'S STORY.

Talk With a Man who Plundered an Inno-cent Canadian.

San Francisco, Feb. 10.—[By the Associated Press.] The Post prints an in-terview with Soto, one of the men in the county jail at San José, on charge of robbing the Canadian, Gardner, at Redwood City. Soto being asked, "You don't deny that you committed the crime you are charged with?" said, "I don't deny it, nor do I say I did it

The prisoner grew very sullen under questioning and finally said that if he had to go to jail he would take an offi-cial or two from Redwood City along

"It has been asserted that some of the officers in Redwood City gave th Canadian money to make him quit. Is that "I don't say who gave him money," answered Soto, "but he was paid and I should think that ought to have been enough. I don't see what they want to prosecute me for now."

Thieving Postoffice Clerk Detected. SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 10 .- Frank M. Dix was arrested today by Postal Inspector Siebolt on a charge of robbing lance for some time. He is a box clerk in the postoffice. Of late various packages and letters containing money have been missing. Yesterday a package was mailed to Mrs. Thomas B. Harrington, San José. Inside the package was a note reading, "For Willie and Hazel from Grandma." There were also two large dollars, but the ruthless box clerk put the gift into his pocket and sent on the note without the $2.

MINNEAPOLIS PREPARES.

Arranging for the National Republican Convention.

MINNEAPOLIS (Minn.,) Feb. 10.—[By the Associated Press.] Convention matters are progressing rapidly, and plans for the accommodation of the plans for the accommodation of the great crowds attending the Republican convention are crystalizing. There will be a hall unequaled, and all delegations, press and public, will be cared for in a sumptuous manner. Arrangements for the conversion of the Minneapolis Exposition building into a hall for the convention have progressed sufficiently to justify the prediction that Minneapolis will furnish the Republican party the best convention hall yet constructed in this country.

In the center will be a space, nearly square, which will be occupied by delegates. The aisles will be so arranged as to render easy the approach to the as to render easy the approach to the seats and communication between the different delegations. Immediately in front of the space occupied by the delegates and extending across the entire width will be an elevated rostrum, in the center of which will be another elevation to be occupied by the chairman, clerk and the stand of the speakers. Immediately behind this will be seats for the National Committee and honored guests. To each side of the rostrum will be tables, the first for representatives of the Associated Press and chief representatives of the Western Union and Postal Telegraph companies, then for reporters of the leading dailies of the country. In addition to these will be chairs for representatives of the press not engaged in the immediate seats and communication between the press not engaged in the immediate work of making verbatim reports of the proceedings but engaged in descriptive writing etc. Seats for spectators will arise in every direction from the central space.

To supplement the existing hotel accommodations arrangements are being made to convert a number of new and as yet partially occupied office buildings into temporary hotels.

THE VAN NUYS MUSICALE. The elegant home of Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Van Nuys, corner of Spring and Seventh streets, was thrown open last evening to a throng of guests representing the elite of the city. The affair was in the nature of a reception interspersed with a delightful, informal musical programme kindly furnished by the musical guests of the evening. It is doubtful if any city of its size can boast of more musical ability in its social circles than can Los Angeles. The affair was given in honor of Mrs. Hayden Mc-Lellan and daughter of Seattle, whose presence here has caused a perfect round of receptions, parties and teas.

The Van Nuys mansion is delightfully arranged for entertaining. The spa-cious rooms on the lower floor are separated by portieres from a long hall which widens at the lower end into a cozy music-room. The grand piano was here and rich rugs adorned the inlaid floors, while garlands of smilax outlined the frieze. Potted plants were ar-ranged artistically at doorways and in every availabe niche.

The parlors, where the guests were formally received, required, with their rich furnishings, but few decorations. Sprays of papyrus grass nodded their plumes from a tall, slender-necked grass vase of old blue, and a bowl of lovely pink poppies, whose silk-like petals were exquisite in coloring, ornamented the mantel. Poinsetta blossoms were the mantel. Poinsetta blossoms were outlined like crimson stars against the heavy gilded frames of the mirror. The ladies of the receiving party were Mrs. McLellan, who wore a beautiful evening gown of pure white; Miss McLellan, in a dainty costume of cream mouseline de soie; Mrs. Van Nuys, in a becoming costume of old rose; her becoming costume of old rose; her mother, Mrs. Annis L. Lankershim, in a rich silver brocade, and Mrs. John W. A. Off, in her bridal robes of white brocaded Indian crepe.

At 10 o'clock the musical programme began and for an hour the guests were delightfully entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Modini-Wood, Miss Moilie Adelia Brown, Mr. Harry Williams and Mr. Marion Wigmore, who sang some of their choicest selections. J. Bond Francisco's violin playing was rapturously received and Preston Ware Orem gave a piano solo in finished style. Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Cogswell also contributed to the enjoyment of the guests by their vocal music. Mr. Cogswell ably directing the entire programme. Chairs were arranged in the reception-room at the left for the guests during the programme. Punch was served in the library from an elegant Satsuma bowl, and on the third floor tables were laid in a half dozen small supper-rooms, where elaborate refreshments were elegantly served. The handsomely laid tables each had a beautiful floral centerpiece—a rustic gypsy basket filled with carnations and maiden-hair ferns—and the bonbons were so artistically arto the enjoyment of the guests by their the bonbons were so artistically arranged as to contribute largely to the

W. F. Hulen was signed yesterday morning by Mr. Vanderbeck. In the afternoon the clever little third-bag guard received his advance, and in the evening he was receiving congratula-tions in a modest new suit and laven-

Hulen is probably the first Native Sor to be signed in this State for the com-ing season and he will be worth at least ing season and he will be worth at least 100 people at every game.

The little favorite was born at the State capital and is not yet a voter. He takes to baseball as a duck does to water and began with "one old cat" when a member of the barefooted kindergarten. He has been among the speediest members of different amateur clubs in this State and the Northwest and is a local favorite wherever west and is a local favorite wherever he has been. In Los Angeles he jumped right into popular favor, and continued right along to eat up nasty balls with a certainty that was mighty satisfactory certainty that was mighty satisfactory to the cranks.

This season will witness Hulen's first appearance in league uniform, but he has shown by his playing during the past two months that he is swift enough for professional company. Out of 107 chances in twenty-two games he accepted 100, giving him a fielding average of .935. Ebright and Van Zant, who headed the California League third-basemen last year, had .858 each, although Hustin. who only played twenty-five games, had .875. In batting Hulen has .226, and he is a "comer" in this line, as he has a splendid eye and a this line, as he has a splendid eye and a steady nerve, seldom striking out.

THREE OF A KIND. Confidence Men Turn a Little Trick at Sar

The San Bernardino Courier recently

The San Bernardino Courier recently published the following:
On the 1st of February there registered at one of our hotels three men. The names they placed upon the register were L. C. Cole, Seattle; F. Emet Ross, Chicago; T. F. Howe, Milwaukee. One of the trio claimed to be a drummer for a liquor house, another a lumber man from Oregon, and the third a commercial traveler. They were all jovial, genial fellows, and of course made a number of acquaintances. One of these acquaintances was invited to the room of one of the smooth ones and a friendly little game of cards proposed. To cut matters short, the acquaintance got up $40 short on one of their little tricks. The victim informed the police. The next day, as the three were about to leave for Los Angeles, Marshal Thomas caught one just as the train was about to start. When he found that it meant arrest or a return of the $40 he returned the money. Last night the same trio returned and registered at another hotel, giving the names of F. R. Emet, Kansas City; H. C. Maynard, San Francisco; C. L. Coleman, Galveston. They say they are going to leave town in the morning, and acted last night in a peculiar manner when they learned that they were being watched.

The oldest is a man about 45 years of age, about 5 feet 5 inches in height, portly, with published the following:

The oldest is a man about 45 years of age. The oldest is a man about 45 years of age. about 5 feet 5 inches in height, portly, with iron gray mustache, and seems to be the smoother of the lot. ecretary Wiggins Still Silent on the Lady

Secretary Frank Wiggins, of the Executive Committee of the World's Fair Association, still resolutely refuses to say anything in regard to the appointment of Mrs. Dr. Wilder as lady com missioner or to explain his connection with the matter on the ground, it is claimed, that to make any statement might implicate friends, for which reason he prefers to bear in silence any reason he prefers to bear in shence any blame which may be attached to the transaction rather than bring them into the controversy. Just how these friends might be injured Mr. Wiggins discreetly keeps to himself, and unless the friends come forward voluntarily to their friends' relief there is but little prospect of the inside history of the deal ever seeing the light of day. Mrs. Wilder's appointment has not yet been confirmed, however, and yet been confirmed, however, and doubtless a strong protest will be wired to Mr. Rose, who is now in San Francisco attending the meeting of the commissioners, when the names of the lady commissioners will be passed upon. The Ladies' Annex is thoroughly aroused over what it considers the "sharp practice" that has been played upon it, and it does not intend to let the matter rest. As one of the members remarked yesterday, "We may not be able to undo the mischief, but we can make it very unpleasant for but we can make it very unpleasant for the parties concerned in the outrage, and we would be something more than human if we overlooked a piece of de-ception and trickery of this kind."

An Incestuous Brute.

Constable Tom Weller of San Diego rrived in the city yesterday with Charles Benoit, en route to San Quentin to serve a ten-year sentence for incest. In this city the officer received a tele-gram notifying him to return Benoit, as his attorneys had secured a stay of thirty days in which to apply for a new trial.

new trial.

The crime for which Benoit was convicted is a peculiarly revolting one. The man lived on a ranch near Sar Diego, where he maintained incestuous relations with his two daughters, aged 10 and 14 years, his wife in the meantime conducting a house of prostitution in San Diego. The officer stated that it was one of the worst cases he had ever heard of, and he could not understand on what grounds the brute could hope to secure a new trial. He said the people would probably have lynched Benoit if they had known all the facts of the case. trial.

BONER'S CHARGES.

Mr. Brennan Says There is Not a Word of Truth in Them.

On Tuesday an old man, who calls him-self Col. D. Boner, and says, house graduate of West Point, called at the police station and stated to-Clerk Cattle that he owed a board bill of $15 at the Hoffman House, but they wanted at the Hollman House, but they wanted $50 and he could not pay it. Boner, who claimed to be a whisky house drummer, wanted the police to take possession of his samples and settle the bill until he reached San Francisco. The officers explained that they could do nothing, and if he had any grievance be would have to go to the courts for do nothing, and if he had any grievance he would have to go to the courts for relief. After talking some little time the old fellow left.

Brief mention of the matter was made in The Times yesterday morning, without comment. Later John Brennan, the proprietor of the Hoffman House, called at this office, and made a complaint, saying there is no truth whatever in Boner's charge. The true facts of the case, he said, are, in brief, as follows: Boner does not owe me $15, but $10, and that was all he was asked to pay. The man had been me $15, but $10, and that was all he was asked to pay. The man had been drinking heavily, and he locked up his samples to prevent him from drinking himself to death. Boner had hypothecated his satchels and watch at the Western Union Telegraph office for a telegraph bill of $2.50. Brennan says he redeemed this property. He then told Boner he was a nuisance about the house, and to get out, go off and get sober, come back and pay his bill and get his property. This, Mr. Brennan and says, is all there is to the matter.

Yesterday afternoon Mr. Brennan and Boner called at the police station, when Boner denied making the charge as published, and stated that he would make an affidavit to that effect if necessary.

Later Brennan again called at the station, when he stated that Boner had made an unqualified denial. "Clerk Cattle and Officer Cox, who were both in the station when Boner came in on Tuesday, however, stated positively that he did make the charge as pub-

Almost a Shooting Match.
Two rival highbinders came together in Chinatown yesterday afternoon and for a time it looked as though there would be a shooting match. One of the heathens had just drawn: a murderous-looking revolver and was about to comoperations, when Officer Rohn mence put in an appearance. He was not quick enough to catch the men, who were flustled off and concealed by their friends. Both are known and they will be looked after.

DECIDEDLY CLEVER.

A Parrot That Could Speak Two Hundred Words.

Boston Herald.]
The guests of a down-town hotel were holding a private dancing party the other evening. In the hallway between the large dining-room, which was to be used for dancing, and the party in which the guests were assemparlors in which the guests were assem-bled prior to the dance, was a large cage containing a beautiful green par-As the Herald man watched the bird

Presently the strains of the orchestra began to the strains of the orchestra began to float gently from the dance hall through the corridors, and Joe—to which name the bird answers—began to wink knowingly and cock his head sideways. Then he began to screech joyously, and was apparently highly delighted that the monotonous stillness had been broken and the festivities inaugurated. broken and the festivities' inaugurated.
As the ladies, escorted by their gentlemen, began to file past the parrot's cage down the corridors to the dance hall Joe began to feel lonely at the thought of being left alone and was evidently a trifle piqued at not being invited to join them, for he blurted out in grating, inharmonious tones as each ouple passed: "Let me come in," and couple passed: "Let me come in," and "George, come back and take Joe."

Beyond a passing good-natured remark no one noticed poor Joe, and this neglect so enraged him that he fell to shricking fearfully in a manner to make even a scissors grinder stop his wheezy machine through sheer ner-

The owner of the parrot hearing the noise immediately approached the cage and in soothing tones asked? "What's the matter, Joe?" "Joe's all right. What's the matter with you?" said the bird in good, gennine English. This caused a general titter, but the owner was stern and shouted, "Shut up," whereupon this highly-educated and talkative bird told him to go to a certain warm place.

This shocked the ladies present, and the proprietor of the feathered circus thought he had better pursue different tactics, so he began to humor the creature.

Joe immediately appeared to be cognizant of the change in his master's nizant of the change in his master's voice.

He became decidedly social and gave an exhibition of his knowledge of the English language.

Here are some of the things that the bird said which the reporter had time to catch: "Monkey, monkey, bottle of beer, how many monkeys are there here?" and, as a lady stopped to talk with him: "Kiss me again, I like it." He concluded this sentence in gutteral tones: "Yum, yum, yum."

The owner of the bird proudly told the company that Joe was fond of company and that Joe was fond of company and that Joe was fond of company and that if he had not placed the bird where he could see and hear all that was going on he would raise the roof with blood-curdling shrieks.

As the Herald man bid the owner of this semi-human, but most precarious bit of property "good day." he sollloquized on the length of time that bird and his master would have lived had he been in old Salem during the days when witchcraft was theaght to abound.

BANKS AND WOMEN.

Modern Contrivances for Bringing Pleas-ure Into Business. New York Recorder.1

Inew York Recorder.]

Certain of the uptown banks make a specialty of attention to women depositors and have the most guileful little ways of making them feel comfortable and blen places. One in particular, in the heart of the shopping district, has done more to encourage the niceties of the toilet than any "beauty shop" in town. There are two entrances, the less conspicuous of which leads directly into the ladies' side of the establishment. Just before you come to the cashier's desk there is a curtained door, behind which may be seen the corner of a fresh, white apron. She whose curiosity urges her on finds a bright-faced colored woman on the alert to repair any damages to the costumes that may be apparent. Needles, thimbles, buttons and many-colored spools of silk and cotton surround her. She has shoedressing and whisk brooms, while prushes, hat-pins and a big tray of hairbrushes, hat pins and a big tray of hair-pins almost hint that your hair has lost some of the perfection of arrangement that characterized it when you left

The waiting-woman in charge of this foom scorns with especial scorn the maid or matron who deposits her wealth in her stocking. It is astonisning, she says, how many people carry their valuables in that singular hiding place. A little chamois bag holds the bills, and Httle chamois bag holds the bills, and that is often fastened to the garter for greater safety. She has a trifle less diadain for those who undo three or four buttons of the frock and slip the prec-fous roll inside. She thinks the money can be produced in the latter case with can be produced in the latter case with fewer gymnastics than when the lower-lodging place is made use of. She tries to deter women from putting money in their stockings by telling a direful tale of a girl whose thin stocking wore through, causing the unconscious capi-talist to shed wealth at every step.

... and GAZETTEER!

A Condensation of the Encyclopedia Britannica, Chambers's Encyclopedia, etc., with the addition of much original matter treating of AMERICAN SUBJECTS.

Illustrated with eighty full-page colored maps and nearly two thousand engravings.

SUMMARY.

EVER before has there been offered to the public a book of reference approaching this in completeness, compactness, or cheapness. It contains 720 pages of encyclopedic information concerning all branches of knowledge, comprising, in a condensed form, stripped of unnecessary verbiage, the very cream of the Encyclopedia Britannica and the latest edition of Chambers's Encyclopedia, with the addition of a great many American subjects found in neither of the larger encyclopedias.

Besides being a comprehensive gazetteer of universal knowledge, it is also a complete Atlas of the World, containing eighty full-page maps. Some idea may be gained of the magnitude of this wonderful work and the vast number of subjects treated of, from the following table:

Number of Pages.	Size of Page.	Total Number of Pages.	Total Number of Words.	Number of Subjects.	Total Length of Columns, Inches.	Number of Words for One Cent.
720	73/4×10	200,800	1,700,000	18,000	21,600	3,500

If the columns were placed end to end they would reach over one-third of a mile. Just think of 1800 feet of choice reading, compiled from the latest sources, on 18,000 subjects of daily interest to everybody, for a sum per word that requires five figures to express the fraction, and 80 Full-Page Maps, Free.

the whole forming the largest, latest, and most complete Family Cyclopedia ever produced. The maps are corrected to date and beautifully colored by the publishers' celebrated patent plate process to distinguish States and political boundaries. The type is new and clear, the paper good and firm.

The ordinary price of an atlas alone, containing these maps, would be at least as much as the retail price of this entire book, of which they form but a single feature.

The volume is issued in two styles: Handsomely bound in cloth, with gold title, and side stamp, $8.00. Elegantly bound in half Russia, with gold title, and side stamp, $10.00.

This Splendid Book, Indispensable to everybody—the student, the teacher, the scholar, the writer, the business man, and the intelligent citizen—will be sent, together with one year's subscription to the SATURDAY TIMES AND WEEKLY MIRROR, for the unprecedentedly low price of $3.30! There have been some further develop-nents in the Timothy Hills case since his trial Tuesday afternoon, when he was bound over to appear in the Superior Court to answer to the charge of burglary. At the close of the trial "Tim" accompanied his lawyer and another man to the for-mer's office and made a tull confession of his crimes. It will be remembered that he confessed to the officers at the time of his arrest that he had entered numerous houses here and that he was the "Peeping Tom" who had been mystifying the police for the past few months. This confession he after: art denied, and said: "If I saw a house plied up with diamonds and gold would not touch a one av 'em." However, at the interview above spoken of, he ever, at the interview above spoken of, he literally repeated the confession, and said that when he did commit such crimes he was drunk. It is now quite certain that the charge of insanity will be brought against him. If not, he will probably plead guilty to the charge of burglary in the Superior Court.

Apparently the Smith case has not reached an ending yet. When the time came yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock for Judge Morton to give his decision the attorneys for the defense made a motion for a new trial on the ground that Mr. Wiley, one of the jurors, had not shown proper conduct during the time the case was in one of the jurors, had not shown proper conduct during the time the case was in trial. It was stated that Wiley attended a temperance meeting before the verdict was rendered and while he was on the jury, and that he participated in the meeting and expressed himself in favor of enforcing the new ordinance. Several amdavits were introduced by the City Attorney, contradicting the statements made in the motion, and it seems that Wiley, by a rising vote, did say that he was in favor of enforcing the new ordinance, but the judge ruled that this was not sumcient grounds for a new trial and he denied the motion. He then passed sentence upon Smith to the extent of ten days in the city jail and $150 fine. The attorneys for the defense immediately appealed the case and Smith was given to the custody of the City Marshal. He will not go to jail but will be held under bond until the case is appealed.

answer just as well could be rented for $50 per month. The fact that this building was owned by one of the Trustees who, up to a few months ago, was receiving rent at about half the rate now agreed upon, and that the reported sale is supposed to be merely a deal by which the said Trustee may be reimbursed for the loss of rent for several months past, because of the statute prohibiting the payment of moneys to a Trustee for the use of his property, is causing much comment and meets with the disapproval of the citizens generally.

Orange county will be represented in the coming citrus fair in Los Angeles. At a meeting of citizens in the office of the meeting of citizens in the office of the Brunswick Hotel Tuesday evening it was decided to notify the managers of the fair to reserve a space on the first floor for Orange county. A number of fruit-growers present at the meeting offered to donate liberally of fruit and of labor in preparing the exhibit. It was thought by many that as the fruit in this county was hurt as little by the cold wave as in any of the neighboring counties, an exhibit could be made that would be a credit to any locality, and through the liberal premiums offered for individual and county displays the cost of the exhibit would be reduced to a minimum.

A design for the display was discussed and it was finally decided to construct an immense orange to place near the entrance of the exhibition room, and to surround the pedestal, upon which the orange will be placed, with individual exhibits from residents of the county. A letter was read from the secretary of the fair in which it was stated that the only expense the people here are likely to be put to will be the labor in the construction of the design. The third county premium of $100 or the fourth county premium of $50 the secretary thought would be sure to come to Orange county, and either would pay the expenses of making the exhibit.

A MAN WITH AN APPETITE.

Traveling men have a reputation of being rather fastidious eaters, but there is one "knight of the satchel and box of samples" that travels between San Francisco and San Diego who will eat anything from a bale of alfalfa hay to a pair of double barn doors. His order for a fashionable dinner as given in one of the principal hotels of this city a few days ago was as follows: First. plate of oranges, Mediteranean sweets; second, one-half dozen Eastern oysters; third, porturnhouse steak (large size) and one 35-cent can of mushrooms; fourth, two fried eggs, turned over, dry toast, extra large, and cup of strong coffee; fifth, gems and buttered biscuit; sixth, canned fruit and baker's cake; seventh, two Tustin navel oranges. His order, according to price-list, amounted to $1.75, but the landlord could not charge him more than 50 cents. Next morning the landlord had his revenge when he saw his new boarder go into the dining-room, sit down to the table and with a bad taste in his mouth order two eggs straight up and a cup of hot water, for which he paid the usual fee—four bits eggs straight up and a cup of hot water, for which he paid the usual fee-four bits erty owners voted for the projected improvement under the Wright law the measure was carried by a majority of two-thirds of the votes polled, and that the subsequent election for and against the issuance of bonds resulted in favor thereof by a majority of 2½ to 1. The assessed value of the real property in the proposed district is $405.866, but the tax collector is reported as having said that very little of the property could be purchased at the price at which it is assessed. The soil is said to be especially adapted to the culture of citrus fruits, and as all of the 12,500 acres included in the district, with the exception of some 500 acres, can be supplied with water at a reasonable cost the prospects are particularly encouraging to that section for the near future.

THE POULTRY SHOW.

Formal Opening of the Exhibit at Armory Hall.

Addresses by Mayor Hazard, C. M. Wells and Orren Scotten.

Delegates to the Association Welcomed to Southern California.

The Finest Display of High-class Poultry Ever Seen on the Pacific Coast— Some of the Notable Exhibits -Today's Programme

The poultry show has commenced. The gallant military boys have been routed from Armory Hall and the feathered tribe have taken full possession and will hold the fort for a week to come. The crow of roosters, the cack-ling of hens, the quacking of ducks, gabbling of geese, the cooing of doves and the gobbling of turkeys can be heard a block away. An illuminated cut at the entrance of the hall attracts attention and serves as a warning to city-bred youth unaccustomed to barnyard fowls. It represents a dude and his "best girl" making the rounds of a poultry show. Adonis hasoventured too near one of the pens and a long-biffed goose has nabbed his trousers, holding him prisoner, while a saucy turkey gobbler pe at the diamond ring on his hand which clutches the cage in his efforts to clear himself. His eyes are protruding from his head and his features betray the greatest distress. An old rancher stands near grinning in keen delight at the dude's dilemma. The exhibition is now about complete; the Eastern exhibit arrived safely and all the classes are arranged. About a hundred birds arrived from the north late last night and will be placed this morning. As predicted, the Amer-can class leads, closely pursued by the Mediterraneans. The judges will begin their work of awarding premiums this afternoon. Mr. Bridge, the superinten-dent, expresses great satisfaction at the dent, expresses great satisfaction at the complete manner in which everything has been carried out. Six long double rows of coops, the sides covered with muslin and the front with slats, mounted on saw-horses, extend the length of the hall. In these 400 and more pens are con-fined some of the most magnificent fowls that ever delighted the eyes of a poultry-fancier.

Old Autocrat, a sixteen-pound, light Brahma, Massachusetts rooster, stands guard at the head of one of the center rows of pens. His comb almost stands upright. Autocrat, Jr., occupies the next pen and Miss Autocrat, who tips the scales at eleven pounds, has possession of the third. These are magnificent birds with snow-white plumage, except their black-lined wings, black tails and mottled necks.

Old Peerless, a monster Buff Cochin, is a beautiful bird and the white Cochins are not far behind.

C. T. Paul of this city has some mag-nificent Plymouth Rock fowls on exhibition, and O. J. Albee of this county as usual has splendid birds on exhibition.

The Langshan class is very strong and the Indian games excel the usual exhibit in the East. Their slim black bodies mounted on tall, yellow legs re-mind one of a boy walking on stilts. Their smooth, glossy feathers are set close and all in all they are a trim-looking bird.

The fan-tailed doves are beauties.

Three baskets full of eggs were gathered from the coops yesterday morning and all the eggs are to be sold at auction at the close of the show.

The attendance at Armory Hall last night was good and all seemed to enjoy ened by the cock crows of thousands of chickens. He paid the delegates from the East a high compliment for bringing their fancy chickens out from their distant homes and hoped that the citizens of this city will take more interest in chickens than they ever did before. Mayor Hazard was then introduced, and stated that when he learned through the daily press that he was to address the National Poultry Association he began to cast around for something to say to them, but he soon discovered that he would be obliged to stick to the plain truths and tell these gentlemen from the East that this is the finest climate in the world for the production of the most beautiful birds

Killing Thistles and Burdock.
[Exchange.]

At a farmers' institute at Hortonville. Wis., the essayist gave his method of dealing with the above weeds as fol-lows: "If I had a patch of Canada thistles I would turn it into a pasture and salt my stock on that lot at least twice a week, and I would cut off at or, below the surface what I didn't salt. If I the surface what I didn't salt. If I could not turn it into pasture I would have a sharp plow and plow it, and drag it thoroughly after it was plowed with a fine tooth drag. Then cut them up whenever they come up. I dug mine out twice a week with a spade. In the fall of the year the weeds came up thick, and for fear I might miss come I now in and plowed it. some I put the plow in and plowed it up again, and killed them the first year. Kerosene will kill them, and salt in a wet time will kill them. Brine will kill them.!"

them.!'
The burdockhe cuts up as soon as he sees it. It needs to be cut below the crown. An old root in rich ground often has the crown several inches below the has the crown several inches below the surface in loose, rich ground. When cut below the crown they never sprout again, but new ones may come from the seed. Until more than two years old they do not run down more than two or three inches and are easily killed. An old morticing chisel with a long handle is the best tool for such work, and it is improved by having a spure in the handle Is the best tool for such work, and it is improved by having a spur in the handle upon which the foot may be placed in cutting a tough root. Many other weeds in the meadows or lawns are easiest killed with such an implement, and while it is quite a task to go over a ton-acre lot that is very weedy, yet the number of such weeds that come after a year or two of cultivation and seeding to grass is not large unless foul seed is sown.

COL. SCHREIBER OUSTED.

An Official Order by Judge Clark.

Russell Formally Put in Possession of the Coloneley.

He Will Not, However, Have Command of the Regiment.

An Order from Brigade Headquarters Instructing Lieut.-Col. Howland to at Once Take Charge—The Matter Finally Settled.

At the request of counsel for the plaintiff in the case of the People, etc., ex rel. W. H. H. Russell vs. William G. Schrieber, the recent controversy over the colonelcy of the Seventh Regiment, N.G.C., Judge Clark issued an order, in his chambers, on Tuesday evening ousting the de-fendant from office and reinstat-ing plaintiff therein, in accordance with his opinion rendered a few days ago. This order was, in effect, as follows:

This order was, in effect, as follows:

In accordance with the judgment rendered herein it is hereby ordered and decreed that the defendant, William G. Schrieber, is not entitled to the office of scolonel of the Seventh Regiment of Infantry of the National Guard of California, and that he be and hereby is ousted therefrom, and said defendant is hereby ordered to vacate said office.

That the relator, William H. H. Russell, is entitled to the office of colonel of the Seventh Regiment of Infantry of the National Guard of California, and that he is entitled to the possession of the same, and that he be and hereby is put in possession thereof.

And it is further ordered and adjudged that plaintiff do have and recover of and from said defendant the proper costs and disbursements of said plaintiff, amounting to the sum of $9.

It was at first thought that this order

It was at first thought that this order would have the effect of placing Col. Russell in command of the regiment, but after the consideration of the mat ter the military authorities reached the conclusion that, although Col. Rus-sell was entitled legally to the office, the court had not specified that he should have command, and the following special order was therefore issued from headquarters:

from headquarters:

HEADQUARTERS FIRST BRIGADE, N.G.C.
LOS ANGELES (Cal.,) Feb. 10, 1892.

Special Order No. 3.

In accordance with the judgment rendered in the Superior Court of the county of Los Angeles in the case of People ex rel. vs. Schreiber, for the colonelcy of the Seventh Regiment of Infantry, this Brigade, N.G.C., in which the court orders and decrees that Col. W. G. Schreiber is not the legal colonel of said regiment, he is hereby relieved from command of said regiment, and Lieut. Col. L. J. Howland is ordered to at once take command of the same.

Company commanders will, until further orders, report to Lieut. Col. Howland.

By order of

BRIG. GEN. E. P. JOHNSON.

BRIG.-GEN. E. P. JOHNSON. L. S. BUTLER, Lieut.-Col. and A.A.G. As Russell's commission expires on May 5 next, Col. Schreiber will reinlist in the ranks in Co. A, of which he was captain when he was elected colonel, and serve as a private for a few months with the view of again entering the lists as a candidate for election to the office he has just lost

There was considerable excitement among the officers of the regiment over among the officers of the regiment over the possibility of Russell again assuming control, and almost to a man they favored sending in their resignations in case such should be the case. Cooler heads, however, prevailed and Lieut. Baldwin has called a meeting for this evening at Armory Hall, to talk over the situation. It is now believed that the action of the brigadier-general in ordering Lieut.-Col. Howland to take command will settle the matter, and there will be no further trouble.

IN BATTLE.

How One Picks Out a Man and Shoots Him

Down. [Massachusetts Plowman.] Here is a brigade of us in battle line across an old meadow; our right and left join other brigades. We have thrown down a rail fence, gathered logs and brush and sod and erected a breastwork. It is only a slight one, but enough to shelter us while lying down. A division of the enemy breaks cover half a mile away and comes marching down upon us. The field pieces behind down upon us. The field pieces behind us open on their solid columns, but they are not checked. Under the smoke we can see the work of the shells, but they cannot halt that mass of men. The grape and canister does awful execu-tion, but there should be a dozen guns instead of six. They are going to charge us. The guns cannot prevent that. Orders run along the line and we are waiting until every bullet, no matter if fired by a soldier with his eyes shut, must hit a foe. I select my man while he is yet beyond range. I have eyes for no other. He is a tall, soldierly fellow, wearing stripes of a sergeant. As he comes nearer I imagine he is looking as fixedly at me as I am at him. I admire his coolness. He looks neither to the right nor to the left. The man on his right is hit and goes down, but he does not is hit and goes down, but he does not failter.

I am going to kill that man! I have a rest for my gun on the breastwork, and when the order comes to fire I cannot miss him. He is living his last minute on earth! We are calmly waiting until our volley shall prove a veritable flame of death. Now they close the gaps and we can hear the shouts of their officers as they make ready to charge.

My man is still opposite me. He still seems to be looking at me and no one else. I know the word is coming in a few seconds more and I aim at his chest.
I could almost be sure of hitting him with a stone when we get the word to fire. There is a billow of flame—a billow of smoke-a fierce crash and 4000 bullets are fired into the compact mass of advancing men. Not one volley alone, though that worked horrible destruction, but another and another, until there was no longer a living man to fire at.

The smoke drifts slowly away; men The smoke drifts slowly away; men cheer and yell—we can see the meadow beyond heaped with dead and dying men. We advance our line. As we go forward I look for my victim. He is lying on his back, eyes half shut and fingers clutching at the grass. He gasps, draws p his legs and straightens them out again, and is dead as I pass on.

I have killed my man! My bullet alone. them out again, and is dead as I pass on. I have kilzed my man! My bullet alone struck him, tearing that ghastly wound in his breast and I am entitled to all the honor. Do I swing my cap and cheer? Do I point him out and expect to be congratulated? No! I have no cheers. I feel no e ation. I feel that I murdered him, war or no war, and that his agonized face will haunt me through all the years of my life. years of my life.

The recent copious rains have had an effect upon the produce market, modifying prices, creating a big demand for seed and lending confidence to the Potatoes have recovered from the disastrons "slump" of last summer, when they were a drug on the market. Local potatoes are comparatively scarce, the market being chiefly supplied from the north. The three starch actories in this section have probably used up a large quantity of small and damaged potatoes. Northern Burbanks are selling now at from $1.25 to $1.45 a sack—a good price.

The potato business in this section is a peculiar one. At one time of the year we are exporting; at another imyear we are exporting; at another importing. At one time potatoes cannot be sold at 50 cents a sack; at another they are in demand at $1.50. In the spring Los Angeles can beat the United States in potatoes for eastern shipment, say from April 1 to July 1. The late crop here is, as a rule. not so good as the spring crop. This is largely due to not selecting first-class seed. Last year, when ordinary potatoes were unsaleable at 25 to 50 cents a sack, River Burbanks of-local growth were in demand at 65 cents for eastern shipment.

Potatoes should be planted now without delay, so as to be in the Eastern market by April and May, ahead of po-tatoes from the Southern States. Last tatoes from the Southern States. Last year they were planted early, but the continued cold weather made them late and shut us off from Eastern shipments to a great extent. St. Louis dealers were delighted with the quality of some shipments that went there, but they arrived too late to be able to compete with the Southern crop. There with the Southern crop. There is no fear of overstocking the market with potatoes that are placed at once. The railroad rate to Missouri River points was 90 cents last year. Chinamen show much more acumen in this line of business than do white men. The Chinamen are buying seed potatoes and planting now, while Americans are waiting for prices to drop a few cents. Thus, they lose the market, getting four or five weeks behind the Chinaman, who has his corn on the market soon after theirs is planted. Then, they will hold on to their crop for the prospect of a few cents rise, and perhaps have to let it go, after all, for a trifle. Local potatoes are found to "run out" here. Men who understand the business well buy northern seed every year feeding the small potatoes to hogs.

Onions are selling at from 1½ cents to 2 cents a pound—certainly a remunerative rate. There are, however, no local onions in the market. Grocers will not take pains to keep them, although it is a well-known fact that the market touches a good price at some time every year.

This has been a bad year for growers of lima beans, which have become a of hima beans, which have become a great staple in the counties of Ventura and Santa Barbara during the past few years, solid trainloads being shipped East. One Ventura county ranch of over 2000 acres was all planted to lima beans last year. The crop of the two counties was enormous, and as the East had a good crop also, prices fell, and on the 31st of December, last, there were nearly 1000 carloads on hand in the two counties. A few days ago there was a sale of 80,000 sacks in New York at a price approximating 2 cents which will tend to relieve the cents which will tend to relieve the market. A few are sold here occasionally at about 2½ cents, which is not such a bad price after all, although much less than the growers have become accustomed to. Grow-ers and business men of Ventura have been holding meetings and relawe been holding meetings and re-solving that unless the railroad gives lower rates very few lima beans will be planted this season. The Santa Fé is said to be considering a rate of 90 cents, and inducements are being held out to the Terminal to build to the remnal company to build to Hueneme, which is in the heart of Beanland. Probably most people will go out of the business this year, and there will be a scarcity with high prices This is just when a wise man no Eastern eggs on the market just now. They are, hower largely imported from September January, when local eggs are scarce. There is plenty of room for expansion in this business. Eggs average 25 cents all the year round. It has been said all the year round. It has been said that poultry will not do well in South ern California. They do as well or bet-ter than in the East if given as much care as they receive there. Those who doubt should attend the local poultry

There is still plenty of room for a first-class quality of butter in this market. It is at present very hard to get. A dairymen's union was recently formed in San Francisco to stop the sale of oleomargarine as butter, and other-wise help the industry. They should look after the question of overstocking markets. Butter is rushed down here markets. Butter is rushed down here from San Luis Obispo county and the market glutted, while San Francisco is partly bare and prices rise. Then it is is rushed up there, and so it goes, in a continual see-saw, the producers losing money and abusing the commission men for not getting the prices they see quoted in the papers. The question of quoted in the papers. The question of how much a two-pound roll of butter ought to weigh should also be definitely settled. At present it runs all the way At present it runs all the way from one and one-fourth to one and three-fourths pounds.

The oleomargarine question is going to cause trouble in Los Angeles soon. This compound known to the trade as i used by a number of city. The dairymen restaurants in restaurants in scity. The dairymen are of course, anxious to stop the business, but the "oleo" people will not be easily downed. Two manufacturers of easily downed. Two manufacturers of butterine are represented here, the Armour Company of Kansas City and the Cudahy Company of Omaha. It comes in one-pound bricks wrapped in muslin and packed in boxes like butter. It is of a bright yellow color, looking and tasting just like the real article. It is made of one-balf butter, one-fourth lead and company the state of the control of half butter, one-fourth lard and one-fourth beef suet. The makers claim that the concomitants are wholesome and that more cleanliness is observed in that the concemitants are wholesome and that more cleanliness is observed in its manufacture than in most dairies, where the cow stalls are sometimes too near the milk. has recommended it for use in the army and navy. On the other hand, it may justly be said that, as the restaurant people buy the 'oleo' with their eyes open, they ought to sell it for what it is. Of course, in that case the probability is that few would care to use it, perfectly pure as it may be. The wholesale dealers pay a Government license of $480 a year and retail dealers $48 a year. Butte ine sells today at 18 to 22 cents a pound for the best grade, while butter is worth from 50 to 55 cents a roll.

Local cheese is gradually crowding out the imported product. Some very good cheese is now made at Downey and other places. It is selling at about 15 cents a pound.

The long-prevalent idea that hams and bacon 'could not be made in Southern California is exploded. A good quality of both are being prepared in Los Angeles. In hot weather refrigerators can be used, if necessary, in the work.

work Southern California apples are out of the market, except a few from cold storage. Fine apples from the Northwestern States are selling at $5.50 a barrel of about 140 pounds, a good price. There is money in growing win-ter apples in the mountain sections of Southern California. Irrigation is needed to keep the trees in good shape during summer. Dried fruit is low in price and diffi-cult of sale, owing to the heavy Eastern cult of sale, owing to the heavy Eastern crop of last year. The consumption would be much greater did not retailers ask such large profits. It is not always the commission men who are to blame in these matters. Los Angeles commission houses are offering dried apricots and peaches at from 5 to 7 cents a pound—carloads at the former figure. Yet, when one goes to buy any at a groand peaches at from 5 to 7 cents a pound—carloads at the former figure. Yet, when one goes to buy any at a grocery, the price is all the way from 12½ to 15 cents or more. At 10 cents a pound, which would certainly leave the groceryman a handsome profit, even if he paid the higher price mentioned, the consumption would be at least trebled, and thousand of families would be able to enjoy a wholesome food which they are now unable to afford.

THE CHILEAN ARMY. Not Formidable Except Upon Paper, But Made Up of Fighters.

Made Up of Fighters.
[New York Sun.]

The Chilean army is formidable only on paper. In 1888 it contained two regiments of artillery, ten battalions of infantry, with 1028 officers and 12,-450 men. By the law of 1884, however, this establishment was reduced and limited to 10.410 men at most. and limited to 10,410 men at most.

In 1891 the strength of the standing army on paper had fallen to 397 offi-cers and 5719 men, organized in eight battalions of infantry, two regiments of field artillery, three regiments of cav-alry, one battlallon of sappers and one battallon of coast artillery. The effect-ive strength of this army, however, was estimated by a German colonel last year as only 2305, men, for during 1890 no fewer than 1158 had de-

There is universal liability to service in Chile, and therefore there is the fic-tion of a "people's army," such as is supported in France and Germany, but in fact most soldiers are pressed into the service and are paid to stay in it, while exerting all their political influ-ence to get out. When political influ-ence fails, an unwilling soldier merely takes his case into his own hands and takes his case into his own hands and deserts, as the figures just quoted show. Tourists in Chile frequently have much to say about the strength and efficiency of the fire department in the large cities there. The explanation of this is that every fireman is exempt from military service. As it is not customary in Chile, however, as it is on the continent, to drill the fire and police organizations for service in the field, the Chilean firemen would not be any more available for a war than the any more available for a war than the rawest recruits from the provinces Besides its 2305 regulars the Chilean government has, in times of peace, a National Guard of 48,602 men and 2119 officers, to which every Chilear able to bear arms is supposed to belong The National Guard, like the regular army, is much more considerable on pa per than in reality. At the beginning of last year it was estimated to contain but 27,000 men and 1065 officers, poorly drilled and armed, and almost undisciplined. This force is diwided among thirty-four regiments of infantry and three separate companies, eleven squadrons of cavalry, and a few old-fashioned batteries.

'The organization of the Chilean army," wrote a German military authority last February, "is a pretty wretched affair, and patriotic Chileans have long urged a thorough reform. The training is hardly better than the organization. So, for instance, the cavalry is drilled according to the Spanish organization. So, for instance, the cav-alry is drilled according to the Spanish system of 1807. On the other hand, the weapons of the regular army are sufficiently modern. The field artillery has Krupp guns and the infantry has Mannlicher rifles. The ammunition factories and repair-shops are under the supervision of German officers."

Not the least of the serious defects of the Chilean army is that it has an amazingly large number of commissioned officers. Every battalion has one colonel, two majors and two captains. The change, moreover, from the peace formation to the war formation has been in no way provided for. The weakness of the Chilean army is more the result of poor management of war ministers and inspectors-general than of lack of good material. The Chilean soldiers are fair fighters, as 50,000 of them showed in the war with Bolivia and Peru some twelve years ago. They are, besides, hardy and unago. They are, besides, hardy and uncomplaining, and of phenomenal endurance. In the last war the Chilean infantry did some astonishingly good marching. Marches of thirty or thirty-three miles a day, beyond the power of highly-trained European troops, were for them nothing extraordinary. The cavalry showed similar ability to withstand fatigue. Marching day and night it several times covered sixty. In more miles at a stretch. The secret of this endurance of the mounted soldiers is that every Chilean is at home on horseback and that every horse, when ridback and that every horse, when rid-den at a gallop, the only gait of the Chilean cavalry. has almost inexausti-ble strength. Because the Chileans are famous riders. however, it is not cor-rect to draw the inference that they are poor pedestrians. This is shown, not only by the work of the infantry in the

RUSSELL'S PRISONER.

He is Examined by Mind-reader. Tyndall.

Cross-questioned at Length While in a Hypnotic State.

He Denies that He is Implicated in the Rio Vista Murder.

An Associated Press Dispatch States tha the Man is From Napa, Where He Was Convicted of Arson-A Mistake Somewhere.

Tyndall, the mind-reader, and several deputy sheriffs and reporters congre gated in Sheriff Gibson's office and held a séance with Detective Henry Russell and O'Brien, the man with so many aliases, who is thought to be one of the robbers who killed Night-watchman Howard at Rio Vista on the morning of the 20th of last month.

O'Brien was asked if he had any objections to being hypnotized, and, after Tyndall had explained to him that he ould be placed in a kind of stupor so that he would have to tell the truth, the young fellow boldly stared that he had no desire to do anything else, but he was afraid that he might be injured in some way by the influence and hesi-

in some way by the influence and heattated until Tyndall convinced him that he would simply go off in a kind of sleep and would be as sound as ever when awakened, when he consented to try the experiment and took a seat.

Tyndall made a few passes over his face with his hands, when he closed his eyes and trembled violently from head to foot. As soon as he seemed to be sleeping quietly Tyndall began to question him, and he answered every question without hesitating a second.

tion him, and he answered every question without hesitating a second.

He stated that on the night of the robbery and murder he was rooming in Sat Francisco at No. 416 Post street with four young fellows named Harry Hazel, Tom Mahoney, Mike Lawton and "Jack." Tom Mahony is working for the Bohemian Cub and "Jack" has some kind of a job at the Baldwin hotel. The subject stated that he is from Quincy, Ill., and Mahoney is also from that place. He is positive that he was in San Francisco at the time of the robbery, which he never heard of the robbery, which he never heard of until he came down here and was arrested for stealing some watch chains and told that he was wanted for robbery and murder. He admitted that he committed the robbery in this city, but claims that he was drunk and was led into it by his companions.

He says he came here from San Francisco a week ago last Monday.

Just before he went to San Francisco he was in Sacramento and roomed in a house near the Western Hotel with a couple of men named McCoy and Smith

Tyndall made a careful examination and is confident that Detective Russell and is confident that Detective Russell has captured the wrong man, for during the examination he read his mind carefully and O'Brien did not show any signs of having ever been at Rio Vista, and if he had been in the robbery it would be impossible for him to keep from thinking about the place even if he was shamming during the investigation.

The following Associated Press dispatch received last night gives additional information about the man:

NAPA, Feb. 10.—Lee Howell, who has been arrested at Los Angeles on a charge of being implicated in the Rio Vista murder, is a Napa boy. He was arrested here eighteen months ago for arson, and was sent to the House of Correction therefor. He is only 20 years old. His companion is known as "Slim," and is wanted here for burglary. burglary.

A little stale bread soaked in porter or ale has been for a hundred years a remedy for droopy chickens and hens in the country districts of "Merry En-gland." It is good. THE COMING FIGHT.

The Outlook for the Lawson-Conley Mill

Records of the Men.

Interesting though most of the events heretofore held under the direction of the Pastime Athletic Club have been, the coming fight between James Lawson, ex-champion of Australia, and Jim Conley of Boston promises to eclipse them all. The fact that Lawson has won ninety-five battles is alone sufficient to guarantee that he is experienced in matters relating to the ring, and that such men as George Mulhol-land. Jack King, Martin Power, Jack Burge and Pendegast have ac-knowledged his supremacy is ample proof of his cleverness and ability. Further comment upon a record so well known as that of Lawson's need-less, but as his component is a stranger less, but as his opponent is a stranger here a few words with regard to his past performances are necessary. Jim Conley, who will be 27 years of age on the Sunday following the fight is a clever scientific boxer and has the reputation of being a hard-hitter. He recently won the John H. Clark light-weight championship after defeating eleven men. Among those with whom he had battled successfully are Paddy Burns, fifteen rounds; Dan Daly, ten rounds; the "Montana Kid," four rounds, and Jimmy Mitchell, eight rounds.

Both men have been hard at work at their respective training quarters for some time past, and, from all accounts, both will enter the ring on Thursday night next in tip-top condition, and eager for the fray, which will be fast, furious, and by no means one-sided.

COYOTE SCALPS.

About $100,000 Due the Hunters in Bounty Money.

Twenty Thousand of the Animals Killed in the Past Nine Months-Attempted Frauds Nipped in the Bud-Interesting Statistics.

An act passed by the last Legislature provides that a bounty of $5 shall be paid out of the general fund in the State treasury to any person who kills a coyote, provided the scalp be pre sented within three months after killing.

Probably no piece of recent legisla tion created such a furor throughout the interior as did this bounty act. Originally intended to be a means for the extermination of the obnoxious and predacious coyote, the act has had the additional effect of creating an army of nimrods who have ever since been active in hunting down this profitable an

The killing bee commenced during April of last year, extending through all the counties of the State except Solano, Yuba, Sonoma, San Francisco, Marin, Humboldt, Glenn and Del Norte Unfortunately for these districts, coyote is not native to the soil, though plentiful enough throughout the rest of the State.

At first the coyotes were hunted in a desultory fashion, the scalps coming in one at a time. But the country justices, whose business it became to "swear in" the hunters' spoils, spread the news of the bounty far and wide, and by May organized hunters gave up other purplies to chase the ripple. other pursuits to chase the nimble cov-ore. The clerks of the interior county boards have had their safes stuffed with skins, and the new industry promises to take rank with the tamer purises to take rank with the tamer pursuits of horticulture and viticulture if it continues to be encouraged.

Interest in the bounty caused an enterprising syndicate in Southern California to employ Mexicans across the line to kill coyotes and smuggle the skins over, but the authorities nipped this little scheme in the bud. Other unscribed the state of th unscrupulous hunters have tried to paim off all sorts of skins and animal profiles on the district clerks, and perhaps they have succeeded in some instances The act, however, requires that the scalp "must contain the ears and nose of the coyote," and this condition prevents deception from being an easy matter.

Through the courtesy of Secretary of State E. G. Waite and State Controller E. P. Colgan the San Francisco Chronicle is able to give figures showing the number of certificates issued thus far, the amount of the bounty paid and the number of coyotes killed.

The Board of Supervisors of each county determines the number of scalns deposited with the clerk during each quarter and gives to the depositor a certificate showing the number of scalps presented and the sum due him at the rate of $5 a scalp. These certificare presented to the State Contro who draws his warrant on the general

Up to the 19th of January the amount of warrants drawn for payment of the bounty was $56,645. The amount of certificates issued by the clerks during the first and second quarters, ending June 30 and September 30, 1891, re-spectively, was $59,615, so that certificates to the amount of $2970 for the first two quarters remain to be paid. None of the claims for the December quarter has as yet reached the Con-troller's office. From a comparative statement furnished by the State Controller, showing the amounts due on certificates issued by the clerks of the various counties for the three quarters, the extent of the coyote-killing business is readily gathered. In the nine months ending December 31, 1891, Fresno county hunters earned $8650. In some of the other carned $8650. In some of the other counties the figures for the same period are; Kern, $12,695; Los Angeles, $6005; Merced, $5555; Modoc, $3265; Monterey, $8955; San Bernardino, $7615; San Diego. $6745; San Luis Oblapo, $5880; Tulare, $9940.

From the totals it is seen that up to December 31, 1891, the amount for December 31, 1891, the amount December 31, 1891, the amount for which the State is liable to coyote hunters is $99,070. During the first quarter 5637 skins were captured; during the second 6294, and during the third 7883—a total of 19.814. These fig-7883—a total of 19.814. These figures best illustrate how plentiful the coyote must have been and what interst is being taken in its extermination. The climax in the thrilling and remu-nerative pastime might be reached in the establishment of coyote farms. Then the hunter could simply walk into his stockade and knock down a few hun dred dollars of scalps with a stout cud-gel—that is provided the State did not draw the line at domesticated coyotes.

SPRING CLOTHES.

Some Seasonable Fashion Forecasts and Fancies.

The Prevailing Desire for Novelty-About the Russian Motifs-The Flare and the Dip-Spring Fabrics, [CONTRIBUTED TO THE TIMES.] Russian designs and thin fabrics will be asked to reconcile themselves in the spring garments. If there exists any oody naive enough to wonder whether fashion every staggers at incongruities, by this announcement they are an-swered. "A woman's will is God's," says the French proverb. Fashion is its expression, and every day sees the lamb and lion lie down together. The Mujiks might stare some to see their blouses, which they wear of fur and merely turn inside out in summer, made up in gauze, but they won't know anything about it—any more than they know about the restless desire for novelty that sends us westerners to the ends of the earth for a new design, and persuades us to choose for our splendid fashion-garden forms evolved out of the hard necessities of climate and poverty.

Well, why not Russian forms? Some of them are intrinsically beautiful, and as suitable to thin texture as to thick. Of the blouse this is certainly true. It is the Russian modification of the Greek chitone. We have fallen on nothing so good in a long time; let us take it and be thankful. For weeks this blouse has been making its way to favor, and spring will see it in full bloom. It is a long, belted over-garment reaching nearly to the knee. It has no seams at back or front and is double-breasted or visibly. Sometimes the skirt is slashed twice in the front and twice in the back, but never in the middle of the back. The long sleeve wrinkles along the arm and is close at the wrist, and there may be a loose hanging upper sleeve. The modiste will tax ingenuity sleeve. The modiste will tax ingenuity to produce variations upon it. She will at times cut it open down the front, over a long vest, and this will necessitate fitted seams in it. She will boxplait the back, and she will gather it on the shoulders. When heat forbids the hign muffled neck, she will make a turnwar called neck, she will make a turnwar called neck, she will like flat and high muffled neck, she will make a turn-over collar, or one that lies flat and spreads out over the shoulders. Fin-ally, the upper sleeve, which the peas-ant devised for warmtn, she will slash and puff and catch up about the shoul-der and transform into an ornament. But if we are to believe the modistes the blouse is not all of dress that will be

Russian. Some of them go so far as to show patterns of a headdress looking like a truncated cone set base upward, but the hat importers have thus far failed to show advance samples of any such extreme. What we may perhaps believe is that the devotee to fashion can spend best in the study of native can spend best in the study of native Russian costume with a remarkable amount of certainty that her time will not be lost. A fashion runs about two years, and as the Russian craze set in after France and Russia exchanged political compliments, not long ago, there is considerable time ahead for knowledged gained to be utilized.

According to rumors and prophesy-

According to rumors and prophesy-ings the spring girl at the top notch of fashion will look something like this. fashion will look something like this. Her bell demi-train will have on it a fluffy silk border, reminiscent of disfluffy silk border, reminiscent of dis-carded fur, with bands above of galoon, in true Russian feathers, and it will flange very much at the bottom; her louse' will also flange at the bottom like a bias edge that has been stretched; her collar will spread out over her shoulders and cut a horizontal wedge in her profile; the upper sleeve will flange out at the elbow, and the hat may cut the outline after the same manner. The the outline after the same manner. The general effect of the whole will be a succession of flares. It will be confined at the waist, by the costliest cincture her pocket will buy, for the belt will be the fashionable jewel of the season.

Everything will flare—the skirt, the blouse, the sleeve, the collar, the hat. The flare is a part of the physicography.

The flare is a part of the physiognomy of the coming style, just as a sheath-like effect was of the style heretofore; and if you want to be chic next spring this is the expression you will have to cultivate.

The flare is not Russian: there is no trace of any such lightness as it cates in the Russian mind. It is cates in the Russian mind. It is the soul of the French playing through the forms of the sturdier Northerners whom they have, by adopting their costume, elected to flatter.

Other motifs prophesied for spring have other sources. One of them is the loose swinging back foreshadowed by Worth in his latest evening cloaks. The long street wraps of spring will, it is said, have a Watteau back, whose fullness will hang loose from the shoulders down to mingle with the folds of the skirt. A cape will be over the tront and shoulders. This Watteau effect will also influence house gowns, as indicated last week, by shirrings between the shoulders, and in evening gowns it is suggested by the knot of ribbon with long ends.

A new outline is to be noted that promises to become a fancy of some importance. The edges of capes, jackets and waists that extend below the bel-line, instead of being cut of uniform length are clipped down at back and front in a subtle ovoid outline. The form is good erough abstractly, but it is difficult to find any significance for it here, and the conservative woman will stick for the present to the more rea-sonable and always elegant uniform line.

Sleeves will be developed along the course already indicated in the winter costumes. They will be full at the shoulder rather than high, and they will wrinkle down the arm, just as do the sleeves of the Russian peasants. This is an ideal sleeve, such as an artist loves, and if one wants an artist's ex-pression of it they will find it in the pictures of Burne-Jones. To produce the effect the dressmaker will cut it at the top so that the fullness droops, or else she will gather it full along the in-else she will gather it full along the inside seam; or, better yet, she will cut it much longer than the arm and pull it up onto the lining and fasten it there.

The wool fabrics for spring yet and for a month on are to be seen only in manufacturer's samples. They lie between mysterious book covers and are drawn forth hesitatingly for profane eyes. The facts are worth finding out, however, while they are still a secret, for they will add an element or two to the character of the coming styles as well as be pointers for prospective shopping.

Wrinkled surfaces have been feeling their way through the present season and have gained a solid foothold. Therefore wool crape or crepon will be first choice in the spring fabrics. It is soft and fine, and its surface is as varied as the sand wrinkled by the washing wave. One choice sample of it looks as though it had been pressed down on a bed of ferns and retained the mould. It bed of ferns and retained the mould. It will be charmingly colored in two tones, one on the surface and the other in the depression. This fabric will be in tints for street, for house, and for evening wear. In colors there will be the usual tan or mode, not quite as yellow in cast as it is sometimes; grays, weanish blues, beliotropes and pale greenish blues, heliotropes and pale contrasting colors. For street wear crepons will be made up with both vel-vet and bengaline. The illustration vet and bengaline. The illustration shows a mode-colored crepon with blouse of velvet having a wide collar faced with crepoh.

Bedford cord is not new, but it has come to stay. It will take the place of ladies' cloth for early spring. It will be light in quality and the cords but slightly raised. It will be colored in mixtures that hide the cord; also in lines that accent the cord; it will also be in grounds of plain color with boucle lines of colored silk, and it will have serroll patterns in tones of self colored silk.

Camel's hair embroidered with silk dots will be among the fashions, and there will be one other exquisite wool that has spread over its dyed surface a white, translucent film, into which figures age wrought. Southern Pacific and San Pedro Water Frontage.

The Sugar Rate and Third Vice-President Stubbs.

A Remnant of the Chicago and Alton Passenger Boycott.

Beans are Moving Eastward-Prospects of Orange-shippers-The Terminal Road and Its Ferry

-Gossip.

The suit for possession of water frontage at San Pedro, brought by the city of San Pedro against the Southern Pacific Company, will be tried in the Superior Court, Department Six, today. This suit is an important one, not only to the city of San Pedro, but to the shipping interests of a very large por-tion of Southern California, and to the city of Los Angeles in particular, as the question at issue is really whether the outhern Pacific Company shall be allowed to completely monopolize the San Pedro side of the harbor or not. Able legal talent has been secured by the city of San Pedro, and it is expected that the Attorney-General of the State will be on hand to look after the interests of the people. It will be remem-bered that at the time of the first move in this matter THE TIMES printed the exclusive information that pile drivers and workmen had been taken to San Pedro with the evident intention of extending the present wharf in such a way as to prevent the city of San Pedro way as to prevent the city of San Pedro from occupying any portion of the water front as a ferry dock. The ferry was to serve as the connection of the Los Angeles Terminal road, which ends at Terminal Island, across the bay from San Pedro. If the Southern Pacific had been allowed to go on with this work it would have shut out the Terminal road from carrying passengers to and from San Pedro.

WILL MR. STURBS 60?

WILL MR. STUBBS GO?
The probable effect of the demand of Jay Gould for the dismissal of Messrs. Stubbs and Bissell from the railway service because they made a 65-cent rate on 100 carloads of sugar from San Francisco to Chicago is discussed with great interest in railroad circles here, as it is also over the country, says the Chronicle. C. P. Huntington is between two fires. He does not wish to lose Mr. Stubbs nor does he want to antagonize Gould and break up the Western Traffic Association, whose advisory board will meet on April 12 to settle the matter. Mr. Huntington has sent a statement of the Southern Pacific's side of the matter, which establishes a very ingenuous defense. It is thought that this statement was written at Fourth Stubbs and Bissell from the railway of the matter, which establishes a very ingenuous defense. It is thought that this statement was written at Fourth and Townsend streets, but Mr. Huntington assumes the responsibility for it. Among other things he says: "While regarding this matter of very little importance, not warranting the immediate reconvention of the advisory board, yet I wish it understood that the Southern Pacific Company is ready now or at any time to appear before the advisory board in explanation of its action. It has nothing to conceal and nothing to fear from the action of that body. It is guilty of violating no rules of the Western Traffic Association. I believe that the commissioners' finding in the case was that the breach, if any, was a technical one only." After citing the by-law of the association, which says that "if any company shall authorize or promise, directly or indirectly, any variation from established tariffs, he shall be discharged from the service with the reason stated." Mr. Huntington declares that there was no established rate in the instance complained of, and consequently there was no rate cutting. The rate was made after consultation with the traffic officials of the Union Pacific, Southern Pacific and Santa Fé roads. Southern Pacific and Santa Fé roads.

THE ALTON AND ITS BOYCOTT. It appears that the boycott is not yet entirely removed from the Chicago and Alton road. One of the Vanderbilt lines—the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern—let up a little, but the circular issued by the general passenger agent does not remove all of the obstruction. It announces that the Lake Shore will accent tickets coming to it. entirely removed from the Chicago and from connecting roads and reading to or from points on the Chicago and Alton road or beyond, via that road, and ton road or beyond, via that road, and baggage checked through by foreign roads to or from points on said road or beyond will likewise be accepted; also baggage may be rechecked by the baggage agents of this company on tickets issued by foreign roads in cases where passengers holding such tickets have stopped en route at points on this road." From this it appears that, while the Lake Shore will accept tickets reading via the Alton, the sale of tickets by the Lake Shore by way of the boycotted road has not been resumed.

John E. Bleekman, agent for the Pa-cific Coast fast fruit line, has returned to headquarters here after an extended tour through the fruit sections.

General Manager K. H. Wade, of the Southern California, says that the fine weather yesterday was utilized to good advantage by orange packers, and if the rain holds off a little while longer ere will be some heavy shipments of the fruit.

A dispatch from Denver Colo., says that it is reported there on good authority that the Union Pacific has served notice on Chairman Flynn, of the Colorado and Utah Association, that the road withdraws from that organization. The result may be demoralizing in rates between Denver and Utah points.

The little pamphlet which has just been issued by the passenger department of the Santa Fé's Southern California lines as a guide to points of interest on the road will prove very popular, not only with tourists but residents as well. The compilation of facts is an admirable one, the little containing mention more or less brief about every station on the lines.

President Burgin, of the San Francisco and North Pacific, arrived in San Francisco from New York Sunday. He has been in the latter city for some months on business conneced with the Donahue estate, of which he is an executor. Relative to the reported sale of the San Francisco and North Pacific Mr. Burgin is quoted as saying: "The road is as near a sale today as it was months ago. My trip East was not for the purpose of selling this property, though every one knows that it will eventually go to the highest bidder."

The Apparatus Nearly All in Place—A Complete Outilt.

The apparatus for the Young Men's Christian Association has arrived, and is nearly all in place. It is of the best manufacture and consists of adjustable parallel bars. a buck horse, vaulting bar, horizontal bar, chest weights, wrestling machines, intercostal ma-chine, quarter circle, breast bars, rope ladder, knotted rope, climbing pole, trapeze rings, traveling rings, head, neck and leg machines, as justable ladder, finger, and wrist machines, drum and striking bag, medicine ball, Indian clubs, dumb bells, the latest style of row-clubs, dumb bells, the latest style of rowing machine and running track.

The gymnasium and baths are expected to be ready on February 22, at, which time a formal opening will occur. For the baths a special building about 58x30 has been built. In this are sponge baths, shower baths and tub baths, which are to be provided with hot and cold water. Near these will be the lockers and a room for the physical director. Prof. Blessing, the instructor at the State Normal school and Los Angeles Athletic Club, will have charge for the present, associated with W. F. Jacobs, who has had considerable experience in the association at Washingence in the association at Washing ence in the association at Washing-ton, D. C.

The new gymnasium has been anx-iously awaited by many young men and will doubtless give renewed impetus to athletics in the city.

Dated this 28th day of January, A.D. 1892.

SUSANN WARNER.

U. S. GOVERNMENT ADVERTISEMENTS constance with the received at this office until clother with the presence of attending bidders, for furnishing and delivering to the Quartermaster's Department at Los Angeles Cal., of two (2) Draught Horses. Preference, given to articles of domestic produced on the Pacific Coast. Blank proposals and full particulars will be furnished on application to this office. The Government reserves the right to reject the whole or any part of any bids received. Envelopes containing proposals should be marked "Proposals for Horses," and addressed to the undersigned at this prace. J. G. C. LEE, Major and Chief Quartermaster. FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

OFFICE OF THE TIMES, LOS ANGELES, Feb. 10, 1892. There is a fair supply of really fine cranges in the local markets now, but there is also an abundance of inferior fruit. Growers seem to be sending considerable poor stuff to market this year. In San Francisco particularly the market seems to be heavily supplied with low-grade fruit. The Examiner, commenting on this, says: The Examiner, commenting on this, says:

"There is still a glut of poor and trashy oranges which can only be sold to peddlers at extremely low prices. This stuff being hawked about the streets seriously injures the retail trade for good fruit, and in turn retailers are buying comparatively little.
It would be far better for the orehardists if they would not send their frostbitten oranges; calls, etc., to this market, as there is certainly no profit left after deducting oranges, calls, etc., to this market, as hore is certainly no profit left after deducting expenses of shipping, commissions, etc. With this poor stuff out of the way good froit would bring much better prices."

There were few changes of importance in the local markets today. Eggs are a trifle lower. The rest of the list is the same as on Tuesday.

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—In view of the facts in the "coal deal," which were given facts in the "coal deal," which were given out today, the stock market was little more than Reading, both in the stock department and bond list, transactions in Reading stocks and bonds being more than half the entire business. Of the other coalers only Jersey Central made any response to the stimulation, and the general list was comparatively quiet and irregular throughout the day. The general tendency, however. the day. The general tendency, however, was upward under the influence of the imwas upward under the influence of the im-mense rise in Reading securities. The close was active and firm with most of the list close to first prices. The net gain in Read-ing was 6 per cent. Jersey Central rose 2, Distillers 1½, New England 1½ and Dela-ware, Hudson and Chicago Gas each 1, while St. Paul lost 1½. Government bonds were steady.

PRINCE OF PREMIUMS

GEN. GRANT'S MEMOIRS!

Original $7.00 Edition FOR FIFTY CENTS

When purchased on our Combination Plan.

EVER HAS A BOOK had such a sale in the United States as General Grant's Memoirs.

Over 650,000 copies have already gone into the homes of the rich, but the subscription price of $7.00 has placed it beyond the reach of people in moderate circumstances. If 650,000 people have been willing to pay $7.00 for Grant's Memoirs, there must be a couple of million people in the United States who want them, and will jump at the opportunity to buy at the low figure here offered. We will send you General Grant's Memoirs, publishers' original edition, best paper, cloth, green and gold binding, hitherto sold by subscription for $7.00, and absolutely a proposition such as has never been made in the history of book publishing. The two splendid volumes of Grant's Memoirs, of which 650,000 copies have already been sold—not a cheap edition, but the best—for 50 cents; PROVIDED you send your subscription to the SATURDAY TIMES AND WEEKLY WIRROR for one year, and also a gra's subscription of $3.00 for the COSMOPOLITAN MAGAZINE, the brightest and cheapest of the great illustrated monthlies, itself equal to the best $4.00 magazine.

For 50 cents! for 50 cents! Absolutely only 50 cents!

If, however, you have Grant's books, the COSMOPOLITAN'S offer will permit you to take instead—

GEN. SHERMAN'S MEMOIRS, two volumes, sold by subscription for $5.00.
GEN. SHERIDAN'S MEMOIRS, two volumes, sold by subscription for $6.00.
GEN. M'CLELLAN'S MEMOIRS, sold by subscription for $3.75.
GEN. R. E. LEE'S MEMOIRS, sold by subscription for $3.75.
All of these are bound in cloth, greenand gold, in uniform style with Grant's Memoirs.
The COSMOPOLITAN and WEEKLY TIMES are sent postage prepaid, but the postage on the books, at the rate of a half cent per ounce, must be remitted with the order. Gen. Grant's Memoirs, 50 ounces, 45 cents; Gen Sheridan's Memoirs, 52 ounces, 45 cents; Gen. Robt. E. Lee's Memoirs, 55 ounces, 42 cents; Gen. Robt. E. Lee's Memoirs, 55 ounces, 42 cents; or books can be sent by express at the expense of the subscriber.

Send at once the price of a year's subscription to the COSMOPOLITAN, and a year's subscription to the SATURDAY TIMES and so cents for a set of memoirs—$5.00 in all—to which add postage on the particular set of memoirs selected. Thus:

Grant's Memoirs (Including postage,) The Cosmopolitan and $5.48 Sherman's Memoirs, (Including postage) the Cosmopolitan $5.42 Sheridan's Memoirs, (Including postage) the Cosmopolitan $5.46

Lee's Memoirs, (Including postage) the Cosmopolitan and $5.28 WITH THE DAILY TIMES

McClellan's Memoirs, (Including postage) the Cosmopol- $5.26

IN THE CITY: Grant's Memoirs, The Cosmopolitan and the Daily Times, $7.00 Or the Books, the Magazine, and the Daily Times one year, $14.20

Cheap editions and reprints have been frequently offered by periodicals as premiums to -But Never Before-has an original subscription edition on best paper and in cloth binding (sold at retail at $7.00,) been reduced to 50 cents—probably less than the cost of the binding alone—and presented to the readers of a magazine or paper upon receipt of 50 cents.

Such an offer will never be made again. No publisher could afford to make it unless he wished to present a magazine which he felt sure had only to be introduced to retain its permanent place on the family book table—a magazine just as interesting to the young boy or girl as to the oldest grey-head.

gives in a year 1536 pages of reading by the ablest authors in the world, with over 1300 illustrations by clever artists, a magazine whose field is the world; and as the true test of merit is success, its growth from 16,000 to over 100,000 copies within the past three years, best attesta its worth.
